

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, head of the department of history at Gettysburg college, will deliver the address at Armistice Day exercises to be conducted in front of the court house on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, it was announced Monday evening by Edgar A. Moser, chairman of the Armistice Day committee of the Albert J. Lentz post No. 202 of the American Legion.

The exercises in front of the court house will follow a street parade in which Legionnaires, members of the auxiliary, the Gettysburg high school band and the Sons of Legion drum and bugle corps will take part.

To Place Wreath at Plaque
After the procession, which will end at the court house, a selection by the band will be followed by the Armistice Day ritual to be conducted by officers of the Lentz post. Then members of the women's auxiliary will place a wreath at the bronze plaque on the court house front which bears the names of the Adams county World war veterans who died in the service.

Doctor Fortenbaugh's address will conclude the program. If the weather is bad the program will take place in the court room.

After the exercises the band and drum corps will march to the high school athletic field where the drum corps members will drill between halves for the football crowd gathered for the Gettysburg-Hershey game.

The annual Armistice Day ball will be held Saturday evening in the Hotel Gettysburg annex and at 11 o'clock announcement will be made of the person to whom the prize automobile will be awarded.

Invited to Nov. 18 Exercise
Commander Lawrence M. Sheads presided over the meeting Monday evening with about 40 members of the post present. The post voted $2.50 to the Red Cross and accepted an invitation from the local Sons of Veterans to participate in exercises to be held November 18, marking the seventy-sixth anniversary of the dedication of the National cemetery.

Post members were invited to attend exercises at the Gettysburg high school on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Brigadier General Albert L. Cox, Washington, D. C., will be the speaker.

Paid up membership in the Lentz post has reached 63 so far this year.

F.F.A. CHAPTER ELECTS OFFICERS

The Mason and Dixon chapter of the Future Farmers of America of the Fairfield high school conferred the "greenhand" degree upon seven new members and elected officers for the coming year at a meeting Monday evening at the high school building.

Jacob Cluck was elected president; Joseph Musselman, vice president; John White, secretary; Samuel Musselman, treasurer, and Jack Dolly, reporter.

The new members given the initial degree are: Paul Cluck, Jack Dolly, Jay Herring, Roy Musselman, Ira Stonaker, William Shultz and Junior Weikert. The new youths brought the chapter membership to 16.

There was special music by John Mort and William White told of his recent trip to Kansas City as a member of the Pennsylvania F.F.A. band. He was one of three county youths to make the trip as band members.

Elmore H. Slaybaugh, supervising principal of the Fairfield schools, spoke briefly. Richard C. Lighter, county adviser of vocational agriculture education and teacher of the Fairfield "ag" class, attended the meeting.

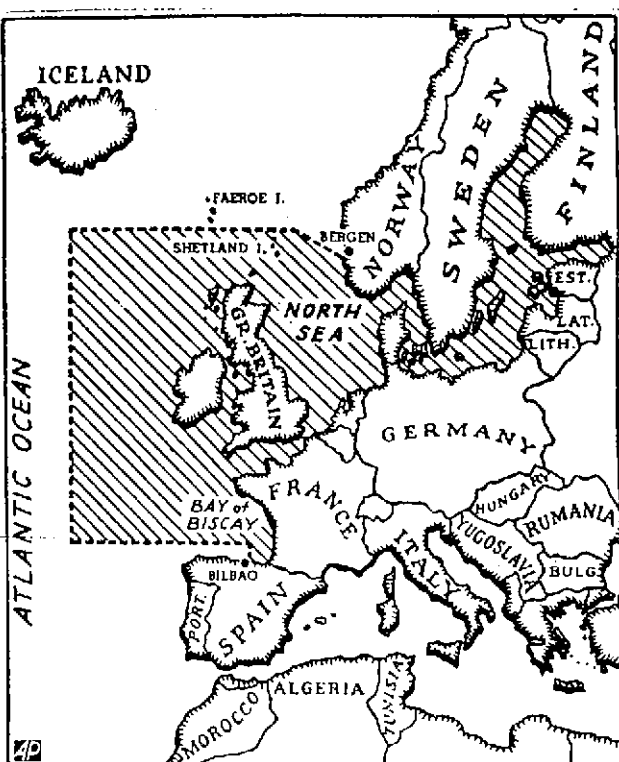

At the close of the business session and program, the boys and their guests enjoyed cider and ginger bread.

Gives Bail on Charge of Desertion, Non-Support

Lloyd Kemper, York, formerly of York Springs, was arrested last Friday in York by a constable there on a desertion and non-support charge brought by the defendant's wife, Lillie Kemper, York Springs, before Justice of the Peace John H. Baskin. Kemper has been released on bail for his appearance in court here later in the month.

Kemper also was served at the same time with a warrant for failing to stop at a railroad grade crossing with a truck loaded with dynamite. He had been sentenced by an Adams county justice of the peace but failed to pay fine and costs in full, according to information received here.

U. S. Ships--Keep Out

Applying the neutrality act which he had just signed, President Roosevelt marked off this "combat area" (shaded) extending from Spain to Norway and forbidding American ships to operate therein. The zone prevents U. S. vessels from calling at neutral ports on the North and Baltic seas, and the law forbids their calling at any belligerent ports north of the Canary islands, off the African coast just south of Morocco.

WILL DISCUSS INSECT CONTROL LASTMAN'S CLUB TO HOLD BANQUET

Fall and early winter disease and insect control measures in the orchards will be discussed by Adams county fruit-growers at their November meeting to be held Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the Biglerville auditorium.

John O. Pepper, extension entomologist from Pennsylvania State college, will speak on "Banding, a Coding Moth Control Measure." A dormant spray for peach leaf curl and early twig infection of brown rot will be discussed for the benefit of peace growers.

In a notice of the meeting sent to fruitmen today, it is announced that County Agent M. T. Hartman is taking orders for strychnine-coated wheat to be used to poison orchard mice.

The apple show committee chairman, H. S. Stoner, Orrtanna, will report on "progress and prospects" for an Adams county exhibit at the state Farm show to be held in January at Harrisburg. A report also will be given by a committee which represented the county at a fruitmen's meeting at the farm show building at Harrisburg.

Agriculture Teachers To Meet in New Oxford

Vocational agriculture instructors in Adams county high schools will hold their November meeting on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the New Oxford high school building while their wives meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kratzert, New Oxford. Mr. Kratzert is the agriculture teacher in the New Oxford high school.

Plans will be advanced for the organization of a county-wide branch of the Future Farmers of America and a talk will be given by H. E. Jamison, assistant secretary of the Interstate Milk Producers' corporation, on milk marketing problems and the co-operative movement among farmers in that connection.

INJURES EYE

Robert Sterner, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Sterner, Cross Keys, suffered a severe injury to his right eye Saturday afternoon, when a stick punctured the eye while he was playing. The injury was dressed in the office of Dr. Wilbur H. Miller, New Oxford.

State Is Producing Enough Cider to 'Float a Battleship'

THE chew and squeeze industry is turning out enough apple juice in Pennsylvania this fall to float a battleship.

With bins bulging with the largest crop in years, more than the usual number of growers set up cider mills in an effort to save fruit they were unable to market. Estimates received by Department of Agriculture officials indicate the state's commercial crop will be approximately 5,900,000 bushels—56 per cent more than last year and well above the 10-year average.

Growers estimate the harvest in the Adams county fruit belt alone at a million and a half bushels.

Arrangements for the first annual banquet of the Last Man's club of the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion to be held at 8 o'clock on Friday evening at the Battlefield hotel were announced Monday evening at a regular meeting of the local Legion post.

Already more than 70 of the 93 members of the club, the charter of which is closed, have made reservations for the affair.

The Rev. Paul B. Beard, pastor of the Mt. Joy Lutheran church, and W. C. Storrick, West Lincoln avenue, historian and former superintendent of battlefield guides, will be the speakers. The latter will tell of the Last Man's club of Civil war days, organized by the First Minnesota Infantry, which had heavy losses at Gettysburg. The last man of that club died several years ago.

Lions Inspect Musselman Plant

Members of the Gettysburg Lions club dined at the Biglerville hotel Monday evening and then were taken on a tour of inspection of the C. H. Musselman and company canning and preserving plant at Biglerville by company officials.

Many sections of the plant were in operation when the clubmen were shown through. Each was presented with a souvenir glass of preserves.

President G. N. Waters presided at the dinner meeting at which 35 members of the club and several guests were present. There were several members of the Upper Adams county Lions club in attendance.

At the meeting of the club's board of directors after the general session R. W. Wentz was elected treasurer of the club for the remainder of the year to take the place of Emory H. Dougherty, who resigned from office after his transfer to a supervisory position at a C.C.C. camp near Bedford.

NEW YORKER FINED

Carl Ulrich, New York city, paid a $10 fine and the costs before Justice of the Peace C. S. Straley, New Oxford, on a charge of driving too fast for conditions. A state policeman from the Gettysburg substation made the arrest.

Conversion of apples into cider

One of the oldest processes in use in the state involves nothing more complicated than a grinder to chew the apples into pulp and a press to squeeze out the juice. A bushel of apples generally produces about a gallon of cider. The pomace—that part of the apple after the juice is extracted—sometimes is used for silage.

Sweet cider is perhaps the most popular of apple juices, but some vinegar, hard cider and pasteurized cider also is turned out.

A few raisins, rock candy or alcohol mixed in cider will make it "hard"—and this drink finds some devotees in the hinterlands.

Admits Forging Check for $27.80

Charles Sipple, aged about 45 years, of no fixed address, pleaded guilty Monday afternoon before Justice of the Peace John H. Baskin to a charge of forging the name of V. O. Baker, Freedom township, his employer, on a check on Saturday. The check for $27.80 was made payable to "Junita Cakall" and endorsed with that name.

Sipple was arrested Saturday by Borough Officer Charles W. Culp and Sheriff B. W. Spence. Officer Culp signed the information. In default of $500 bail Sipple was re-committed to jail after the hearing to be held for November court.

PROGRAM FOR 2D CONVENTION OF LUTHERANS TOLD

The program for the second annual convention of the West Pennsylvania Conference of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America was announced today.

The convention will be held in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Hanover, on Monday and Tuesday, November 13 and 14. The Rev. Dr. John S. Tome is pastor of the host church. The West Pennsylvania Conference was formerly the West Pennsylvania Synod and includes the Lutheran churches in Adams county.

Opening the convention on Monday morning will be a service of confession and Holy Communion at 10:30 o'clock, with a Communion sermon by the Rev. Dwight F. Putnam, of Gettysburg, president of the conference.

The other parts of the program follow:
Monday afternoon—Devotions at 1:30 o'clock by the Rev. R. W. Baker, Gettysburg; preliminary report of committee on membership and attendance; adoption of program; reception of new members; announcement of committees; president's report; report of treasurer; election of officers; nomination of U.C.L.A. delegates; reports of committees on synodical affairs; address, "Subsiding Students for the Ministry," by the Rev. C. A. Neal, Chambersburg, and a second address, "Putting Christ Into Christian Unity," by the Rev. Dr. W. L. Mudge, Harrisburg.

Monday evening—Laymen's meeting at 7:45 o'clock.
Tuesday morning—Devotions at 9:15 o'clock by the Rev. R. C. Schiebel, Hanover; address, "Synodical Ministerial Assistance," by the Rev. T. S. Falkenstein, New Cumberland; conference business; address, "Stewardship and Benevolence—Our Challenge and Opportunity," by the Rev. H. B. Burkholder, Greencastle, and address, "Presentation of the Work of the Central Pennsylvania Synod," by the Rev. Dr. R. M. Ranscher, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod.

Tuesday afternoon—Devotions at 1:30 o'clock, led by the Rev. J. E. Rine, Manchester; address, "Shall Our Synod Continue the Policy of 'Licentiate'?" by the Rev. Dr. H. B. Stock, Carlisle; address, "A New Rural Church Policy," by the Rev. Dr. Martin Schroeder, Lincoln, Nebraska; installation of president, and (Continued on Page Two)

H. S. THESPIANS JOIN SOCIETY

The Mask and Wig dramatic society of Gettysburg high school met Monday evening at the home of Miss Nancy Lynch, North Stratton street, with Miss Anna Swisher, the president, presiding.

The following decided to join the National Thespian society: Anna Swisher, Patty Jean Myers, Anna Ulrich, Jean Spangler, Janet Rebert, Betty Lou Saylor, James Hafer, Ted Gilbert, William Harbaugh, Albert Shuley, Robert Widder and Robert Stoner.

James Hafer, Martin Beard and Robert Morgan were appointed members of a committee to send snapshots to the national society for use in its magazine. The club decided to sponsor a candy and peanut sale to raise funds for its existing debt.

Nancy Lynch, Ethel Beard and Robert Morgan will be in charge of the program for the next meeting at the home of Miss Anna Ulrich, South Washington street. Miss Ruth McIlhenny, advisor, met with the society Monday evening.

Firemen to Nominate Officers Wednesday

The regular November meeting of the Gettysburg fire company will be held Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the fire engine house, East Middle street.

Nomination of officers for next year will be held.

COUNCIL AIDS POLICE PROJECT; OKAYS 4 LIGHTS

Handling borough business with such dispatch that the November meeting was adjourned before 9 o'clock Monday evening, members of the Gettysburg town council acted in a number of matters that included an appropriation of $58 toward the cost of a police camera and finger-printing equipment for which the county commissioners already had given $200.

The council heard and approved requests for four new street lights in the borough, ordered temporary repairs to the unpaved section of East Broadway, and acted in a number of other matters.

Councilman William H. Scott, chairman of the utility committee of council, recommended the placing of new street lights at the following locations and council approved: At the intersection of East Broadway and East Lincoln avenue; at a point near the middle of East Broadway; on Seminary ridge near the new state armory, and on South Stratton street extended.

Treasurer Givens Report
The matter of the new police equipment which is to be kept in the borough and to be available to borough officers was brought before council through a letter from the office of the district attorney. It was pointed out that the county commissioners already had given $200. Council agreed to pay the remaining $58.

The report of the treasurer, Fred G. Pfeiffer, as of November 6, showed a balance of $2,121.74 in the general fund. Receipts included $1,000 collected in taxes. The special fund balance was $1,707.90. With approved bills of $1,600 awaiting payment. (Continued on Page Two)

Held for Action Of Court in York After Collisions

Edward I. Florence, aged about 45 years, 150 West Middle street, was held under $500 bail this morning by Justice of the Peace J. C. Gross in West York, on charges of operating a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and failing to stop at the scene of an accident in which he had been involved.

At the same time Jennings Clinger, 137 South Washington street, a passenger in the Florence car, was fined $10 on a disorderly conduct charge. He was given the choice of paying the fine or spending five days in jail.

Florence paid Clinger's fine and sent him to Gettysburg to secure bail for his (Florence's) release.

The arrests were the result of a double accident in the 1800 block of West Market street, West York Monday evening about 8 o'clock. Florence is said to have been operating a car which struck the machine of Allen L. May, 1228 West King street, York, as the latter was discharging passengers in the 1800 block. Police claim that Florence did not stop his car and about a half block east of the first accident hit the machine of Charles Kopp, York, New Salem, who had stopped to pick up a passenger.

Officer John Dodson, of the West York police, who was a witness to both collisions, said that Florence did not stop until he was overtaken by himself and Mr. Kopp.

The local men were held in jail overnight and arraigned before Justice Gross at 10 o'clock this morning.

2 Jailed for Theft From Local Store

A Hagerstown man pleaded guilty this morning and another was committed to jail with him in the theft of an expensive Evershart pencil and a pack of picture cards worth a total of $1.20 from the Shuman cut rate store on Baltimore street.

William Eversole and David Knobe, both aged 34 years and both of Hagerstown, were arrested Monday afternoon by Borough Officer Charles W. Culp and Officer Joseph F. Bushey, of the state motor police here. The larceny charges against the pair were filed before Justice of the Peace John H. Baskin by Officer Culp.

Knobe admitted his guilt at a hearing this morning. Both men are in the county jail in default of $300 each for November court.

CLAIMS PAROLE VIOLATION

Roy M. Bly, 21, Tyrone township, was arrested Monday afternoon by Private C. W. Lutts of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police, on a charge of violating conditions of a parole on which he was placed recently by the Adams county courts. Officer Lutts charges that Bly drove a car in disobedience of a court order barring him from driving. He has been committed to jail at the direction of the court.

Boy Scouts to Hear Talk on Discipline

Col. Lester L. Lampert, commandant of the Gettysburg college R. O. T. C., will speak on "The Importance of Discipline," at the third of a series of Boy Scout leadership meetings scheduled for last Wednesday was postponed until December because of the Halloween parade.

Richard Ridinger will have charge of the opening ceremony. A talk on the civics merit badge will be given by Paul Mehring, of the Lincoln school faculty. Ray Zaner, York, Boy Scout executive of the York-Adams area, will talk on tin craft and rope and its uses.

Mr. Zaner has announced that certificates will be awarded to Scouts attending six of the eight scheduled meetings.

URGE LIFTING OF BARRIERS ON APPLE MARKET

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP).—Elimination of trade barriers which they said had "practically wiped out" the Argentine market for this country's apples and pears since 1930 was sought today by a group of five senators and seven house members.

Joining in an appeal to the State and Agriculture departments, they advocated inclusion in a prospective trade agreement with Argentina of provisions binding Argentine duties on a parity with those of the United States and guaranteeing abandonment of "present unreasonable sanitary and exchange control restrictions."

"Since 1930," the group said, "nine stringent so-called sanitary restrictions have been placed against United States apples and pears. These technical restrictions amount to every effort short of embargo."

Car in Lemoyne Crash Sought by Police Here

A teletype message received by 10 or police here and relayed to borough officers asked police at Gettysburg to be on the lookout for green 1934 model Ford coupe with new wheels bearing West Virginia license No. 126-183.

The car has a broken windshield and is wanted for being involved in a hit-and-run accident at Lemoyne, Pa. 6:20 o'clock this morning. It was last seen headed toward Gettysburg.

Hospital Report

Clare Cook, New Oxford, was operated on at the Warner hospital this morning for the removal of her appendix.

George Slaybaugh, York Springs, D. D., was X-rayed Monday evening or a fracture of his right shoulder. Those admitted included Mrs. Grace Collins, York street; Brown McInair, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Harry Thomas, East Berlin; Mrs. LeRoy Winebrenner, Baltimore street, and James H. Kelly, Littlestown. Frank Weidner, New Oxford, and Francis Kane, Guernsey, were discharged as patients.

Altoona Cripple Visits Here; First Long Trip in 26 Yrs.

Thomas Russell, 43, of Altoona, who has been paralyzed for the last 24 years following an illness 26 years ago, visited his aunt, Mrs. Mary Myers, Bonneauville, over the week-end. This was Mr. Russell's first long trip in 26 years and was made in his private ambulance. He was accompanied by his sister, Mary Jane Russell, a nurse, his father, Nathaniel Russell, and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Matlock and chauffeur, Gerald Barry. He was visited by nearly 100 friends from Gettysburg, New Oxford, McSherrystown and Bonneauville during his stay.

During the last few years he has followed such hobbies as knitting, crocheting and weaving and has gained one of the finest stamp collections in the state. He numbers among his friends such personalities as Red Grange, Lowell Thomas and Jack Dempsey.

Enroute home he visited his uncle, Ambrose Small, Gettysburg.

George N. Bushey, 65, Fatally Hurt Today in York Springs Collision

George N. Bushey, 65, retired thresherman of York Springs R. 1, was fatally injured in an automobile accident this morning at the intersection of High street and the Hanover-Carlisle highway at the northwestern edge of York Springs.

Mr. Bushey died at 12:45 o'clock this afternoon in the Warner hospital without regaining consciousness. A fractured skull caused death.

Two youths, occupants of the truck which struck Mr. Bushey's 1929 model sedan, were injured in the mishap, but their hurts were said to be not serious.

Turned Toward Service Station

The crash occurred at 8:15 o'clock, according to information gathered on the accident by Officer C. W. Hamberger, of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police. Dr. Edgar A. Miller, Adams county coroner, began his investigation of the accident this afternoon but did not indicate whether an inquest will be held.

Officer Hamberger's investigation showed that Mr. Bushey had been traveling north when he drove to the right edge of the highway and then swerved sharply toward a service station on the left where he had parked a small trailer earlier in the morning.

As he crossed the highway his car moved into the path of a south-bound milk truck operated by Arthur L. Livingston, 17, East Berlin R. 1. The machine is owned by Frank Krall, dairyman of near East Berlin.

The truck hit the Bushey car broadside and threw it against a tree in front of the home of J. Harvey Neely. The car was badly damaged. Mr. Bushey was lying unconscious across the back of the front seat when the car stopped.

Truck Stops on Lawn
After the collision the milk truck ran off the highway and passed between two trees onto the lawn of Walter Wolfe where it came to a stop.

Mr. Bushey was taken to the office of Dr. Robert Stoner, York Springs, for emergency treatment and then rushed to the Warner hospital in the C. Pittenbarger ambulance.

Arthur Livingston and his brother, John, aged 12 years, the only other occupants of the truck, also were treated by Doctor Stoner. Arthur had a cut on his right hand and bruises of the left arm and left knee. His brother received a deep laceration over the right eye and suffered burn burns of the face and a cut in the left wrist.

Mr. Bushey was riding alone in his car.

The front of the milk truck was badly damaged in the collision. Officer Hamberger is continuing his investigation. No charges have been filed.

Mr. Bushey is survived by his widow; three daughters, Mary, at home; Mrs. Lloyd Bentz, Dillsburg; and Mrs. Marie Davidson, Idaville; one son, Glenn, Hanover; one other, Elmer, Harrisburg; and one sister, Mrs. Oliver Prosser, Latimore. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Rev. Foult Elected Hanover Minister

The Rev. Paul Levi Foult, who for the last ten years has served as pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, Altoona, was unanimously elected pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, York street, Hanover, to succeed the late Rev. Dr. O. C. Dean, at a congregational meeting held Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Foult is a native of Adams county, having been born December 31, 1896, on a farm near Littlestown. He was educated in a rural school and later attended the Shippensburg State normal school. He then taught two terms of one year each in ungraded country schools.

He was graduated from Gettysburg academy in 1918, and then served in the United States Navy in foreign service during the last year of the World War. This was followed by special academic work at Pennsylvania State college during the summer of 1919 and he was graduated from Gettysburg college with the bachelor of arts degree in 1922.

The Rev. Mr. Foult was graduated from the Lutheran Theological seminary here in 1925 and also received his master of arts degree from Gettysburg college in the same year.

MISHAP IN SQUARE

No one was injured this morning about 10 o'clock when a car operated by C. A. Rodgers, New Oxford R. 2, and a truck driven by Gerald Hamer, Goldstone, North Carolina, collided in center square. Neither vehicle was seriously damaged. Borough Officer Glenn Gulse investigated.

LIGHT VOTE BEING CAST

Voting was light in Gettysburg during the first seven hours of balloting at the general election today and reports from other boroughs and townships of the county indicated that the number of electors appearing at the polling places was below expectations.

Unless late afternoon and evening balloting is unusually heavy, less than the expected 70 per cent of the county's 19,500 electors will have exercised their franchise when the polls close at 8 o'clock this evening.

A total of 1,133 men and women had cast ballots up to 2:30 o'clock in the four Gettysburg voting places as against 1,269 at the same hour during the last general election for county offices in 1935.

In the first precinct of the ward only 240 residents had voted up to the time a Gettysburg Times reporter made a check this afternoon. In the second precinct of the same ward the figure was 362. Voting appeared to be the heaviest in the second ward where 327 voters had cast ballots but in the third ward the total had reached only 304.

Election board officials here reported no difficulties up to early afternoon and Judge Harvey Gross, York, who is presiding specially in Adams county court today had not been called upon to issue any orders involving election problems by 2 o'clock.

Judge W. C. Sheely went to Fulton county where he will hold court until early evening when he will return here and relieve Judge Gross. Court remains in session until 10 o'clock this evening. J. Donald Swope, Esq., counsel for the county board of elections, was on duty at the court house today to handle legal questions that might arise.

Local contests in the various townships and boroughs are expected to draw many voters to the polls during the late hours of voting although precinct centers in the outcome of balloting for 13 important county offices.

Fulton returns will be received at the court house and at the county jail in the court house this morning.

For the fourteenth consecutive election, Constable Horace L. Benker cast the first ballot in the third ward of Gettysburg. He was the first voter in line when the doors opened at 7 o'clock this morning.

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, head of the department of history at Gettysburg college, will deliver the address at Armistice Day exercises to be conducted in front of the court house on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, it was announced Monday evening by Edgar A. Moser, chairman of the Armistice Day committee of the Albert J. Lentz post No. 202 of the American Legion.

The exercises in front of the court house will follow a street parade in which Legionnaires, members of the auxiliary, the Gettysburg high school band and the Sons of Legion drum and bugle corps will take part.

To Place Wreath at Plaque After the procession, which will end at the court house, a selection by the band will be followed by the Armistice Day ritual to be conducted by officers of the Lentz post. Then members of the women's auxiliary will place a wreath at the bronze plaque on the court house front which bears the names of the Adams county World war veterans who died in the service.

Doctor Fortenbaugh's address will conclude the program. If the weather is bad the program will take place in the court room.

After the exercises the band and drum corps will march to the high school athletic field where the drum corps members will drill between halves for the football crowd gathered for the Gettysburg-Hershey game.

The annual Armistice Day ball will be held Saturday evening in the Hotel Gettysburg annex and at 11 o'clock announcement will be made of the person to whom the prize automobile will be awarded.

Invited to Nov. 18 Exercise

Commander Lawrence M. Sheads presided over the meeting Monday evening with about 40 members of the post present. The post voted $2.50 to the Red Cross and accepted an invitation from the local Sons of Veterans to participate in exercises to be held November 18, marking the seventy-sixth anniversary of the dedication of the National cemetery.

Post members were invited to attend exercises at the Gettysburg high school on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock when Brigadier General Albert L. Cox, Washington, D. C., will be the speaker.

Paid up membership in the Lentz post has reached 63 so far this year.

F.F.A. CHAPTER ELECTS OFFICERS

The Mason and Dixon chapter of the Future Farmers of America of the Fairfield high school conferred the "greenhand" degree upon seven new members and elected officers for the coming year at a meeting Monday evening at the high school building.

Jacob Cluck was elected president; Joseph Musselman, vice president; John White, secretary; Samuel Musselman, treasurer; and Jack Dolly, reporter.

The new members given the initial degree are: Paul Cluck, Jack Dolly, Jay Herring, Roy Musselman, Ira Slonaker, William Shultz and Junior Welkert. The new youths brought the chapter membership to 16.

There was special music by John Mort and William White told of his recent trip to Kansas City as a member of the Pennsylvania F.F.A. band. He was one of three county youths to make the trip as band members.

With bins bulging with the largest crop in years, more than the usual number of growers set up cider mills in an effort to save fruit they were unable to market.

Estimates received by Department of Agriculture officials indicate the state's commercial crop will be approximately 5,900,000 bushels—58 per cent more than last year and well above the 10-year average.

Growers estimate the harvest in the Adams county fruit belt alone at a million and a half bushels.

Arrangements for the first annual banquet of the Last Man's club of the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion to be held at 8 o'clock on Friday evening at the Battlefield hotel were announced Monday evening at a regular meeting of the local Legion post.

Already more than 70 of the 93 members of the club, the charter of which is closed, have made reservations for the affair.

The Rev. Paul B. Beard, pastor of the Mt. Joy Lutheran church, and W. C. Storrick, West Lincoln avenue, historian and former superintendent of battlefield guides, will be the speakers. The latter will tell of the Last Man's club of Civil war days, organized by the First Minnesota infantry, which had heavy losses at Gettysburg. The last man of that club died several years ago.

Lions Inspect Musselman Plant

Members of the Gettysburg Lions club dined at the Biglerville hotel Monday evening and then were taken on a tour of inspection of the C. H. Musselman and company canning and preserving plant at Biglerville by company officials.

Many sections of the plant were in operation when the clubmen were shown through. Each was presented with a souvenir glass of preserves.

President G. N. Waters presided at the dinner meeting at which 35 members of the club and several guests were present. There were several members of the Upper Adams county Lions club in attendance.

At the meeting of the club's board of directors after the general session R. W. Wentz was elected treasurer of the club for the remainder of the year to take the place of Emory H. Dougherty, who resigned from office after his transfer to a supervisory position at a C.C.C. camp near Bedford.

NEW YORKER FINED Carl Ulrich, New York city, paid a $10 fine and the costs before Justice of the Peace C. S. Straley, New Oxford, on a charge of driving too fast for conditions. A state policeman from the Gettysburg substation made the arrest.

James Hafer, Martin Beard and Robert Stoner were appointed members of a committee to send snapshots to the national society for use in its magazine. The club decided to sponsor a candy and peanut sale to raise funds for its existing debt.

Nancy Lynch, Ethel Beard and Robert Morgan will be in charge of the program for the next meeting at the home of Miss Anna Ulrich, South Washington street. Miss Ruth McIlhenny, advisor, met with the society Monday evening.

Firemen to Nominate Officers Wednesday

The regular November meeting of the Gettysburg fire company will be held Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the fire engine house, East Middle street.

Nomination of officers for next year will be held.

Admits Forging Check for $27.80

Charles Sipple, aged about 45 years, of no fixed address, pleaded guilty Monday afternoon before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore to a charge of forging the name of V. O. Baker, Freedom township, his employer, on a check on Saturday. The check for $27.80 was made payable to "Junita Cakali" and endorsed with that name.

Sipple was arrested Saturday by Borough Officer Charles W. Culp and Sheriff B. W. Spence. Officer Culp signed the information. In default of $500 bail Sipple was re-committed to jail after the hearing to be held for November court.

PROGRAM FOR 2D CONVENTION OF LUTHERANS TOLD

The program for the second annual convention of the West Pennsylvania Conference of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America was announced today.

The convention will be held in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Hanover, on Monday and Tuesday, November 13 and 14. The Rev. Dr. John S. Tome is pastor of the host church.

The West Pennsylvania Conference was formerly the West Pennsylvania Synod and includes the Lutheran churches in Adams county.

Opening the convention on Monday morning will be a service of confession and Holy Communion at 10:30 o'clock, with a Communion sermon by the Rev. Dwight F. Putman, of Gettysburg, president of the conference.

The other parts of the program follow:

Monday afternoon—Devotions at 1:30 o'clock by the Rev. R. W. Baker, Gettysburg; preliminary report of committee on membership and attendance; adoption of program; reception of new members; announcement of committees; president's report; report of treasurer; election of officers; nomination of U.C.L.A. delegates; reports of committees on synodical affairs; address, "Subsiding Students for the Ministry," by the Rev. C. A. Neal, Chambersburg, and a second address, "Putting Christ Into Christian Unity," by the Rev. Dr. W. L. Mudge, Harrisburg.

Monday evening—Laymen's meeting at 7:45 o'clock. Tuesday morning—Devotions at 9:15 o'clock by the Rev. R. C. Schiebel, Hanover; address, "Synodical Ministerial Assistance," by the Rev. E. S. Falkenstein, New Cumberland; conference business; address, "Stewardship and Benevolence—Our Challenge and Opportunity," by the Rev. H. B. Burkholder, Greencastle, and address, "Presentation of the Work of the Central Pennsylvania Synod," by the Rev. Dr. R. M. Hamsher, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod.

Tuesday afternoon—Devotions at 1:30 o'clock, led by the Rev. J. E. Rine, Manchester; address, "Shall Our Synod Continue the Policy of License?" by the Rev. Dr. H. B. Stock, Carlisle; address, "A New Rural Church Policy," by the Rev. Dr. Martin Schroeder, Lincoln, Nebraska; installation of president, and (Continued on Page Two)

H. S. THESPIANS JOIN SOCIETY

The Mask and Wig dramatic society of Gettysburg high school met Monday evening at the home of Miss Nancy Lynch, North Stratton street, with Miss Anna Swisher, the president, presiding.

The following decided to join the National Thespian society: Anna Swisher, Patty Jean Myers, Anna Ulrich, Jean Spangler, Janet Robert, Betty Lou Saylor, James Hafer, Ted Gilbert, William Harbaugh, Albert Shulley, Robert Widder and Robert Stoner.

James Hafer, Martin Beard and Robert Stoner were appointed members of a committee to send snapshots to the national society for use in its magazine. The club decided to sponsor a candy and peanut sale to raise funds for its existing debt.

Nancy Lynch, Ethel Beard and Robert Morgan will be in charge of the program for the next meeting at the home of Miss Anna Ulrich, South Washington street. Miss Ruth McIlhenny, advisor, met with the society Monday evening.

Firemen to Nominate Officers Wednesday

The regular November meeting of the Gettysburg fire company will be held Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the fire engine house, East Middle street.

Nomination of officers for next year will be held.

COUNCIL AIDS POLICE PROJECT; OKAYS 4 LIGHTS

Handing borough business with such dispatch that the November meeting was adjourned before 9 o'clock Monday evening, members of the Gettysburg town council acted in a number of matters that included an appropriation of $58 toward the cost of a police camera and finger-printing equipment for which the county commissioners already had given $200.

The council heard and approved requests for four new street lights in the borough; ordered temporary repairs to the unpaved section of East Broadway, and acted in a number of other matters.

Councilman William H. Scott, chairman of the utility committee of council, recommended the placing of new street lights at the following locations and council approved: At the intersection of East Broadway and East Lincoln avenue; at a point near the middle of East Broadway; on Seminary ridge near the new state armory, and on South Stratton street extended.

Treasurer Gives Report

The matter of the new police equipment which is to be kept in the borough and to be available to borough officers was brought before council through a letter from the office of the district attorney. It was pointed out that the county commissioners already had given $200. Council agreed to pay the remaining $58.

The report of the treasurer, Fred G. Pfeffer, as of November 6, showed a balance of $2,121.74 in the general fund. Receipts included $1,000 collected in taxes. The special fund balance was $1,707.90. With approved bills of $1,600 awaiting payment (Continued on Page Two)

Held for Action Of Court in York After Collisions

Edward I. Florence, aged about 45 years, 150 West Middle street, was held under $500 bail this morning by Justice of the Peace J. C. Gross in West York, on charges of operating a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and failing to stop at the scene of an accident in which he had been involved.

At the same time Jennings Clinger, 137 South Washington street, a passenger in the Florence car, was fined $10 on a disorderly conduct charge. He was given the choice of paying the fine or spending five days in jail.

Florence paid Clinger's fine and sent him to Gettysburg to secure bail for his (Florence's) release.

The arrests were the result of a double accident in the 1800 block of West Market street, West York, Monday evening about 8 o'clock. Florence is said to have been operating a car which struck the machine of Allen L. May, 1228 West King street, York, as the latter was discharging passengers in the 1800 block. Police claim that Florence did not stop his car and about a half block east of the first accident hit the machine of Charles Kopp, York New Salem, who had stopped to pick up a passenger.

Officer John Dodson, of the West York police, who was a witness to both collisions, said that Florence did not stop until he was overtaken by himself and Mr. Kopp.

The local men were held in jail overnight and arraigned before Justice Gross at 10 o'clock this morning.

2 Jailed for Theft From Local Store

A Hagerstown man pleaded guilty this morning and another was committed to jail with him in the theft of an expensive Eversharp pencil and a pack of picture cards worth a total of $1.20 from the Shuman cut rate store on Baltimore street.

William Eversole and David Knobe, both aged 34 years and both of Hagerstown, were arrested Monday afternoon by Borough Officer Charles W. Culp and Officer Joseph F. Bushey, of the state motor police here. The larceny charges against the pair were filed before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore by Officer Culp.

Knobe admitted his guilt at a hearing this morning. Both men are in the county jail in default of $300 each for November court.

CLAIMS PAROLE VIOLATION Roy M. Bly, 21, Tyrone township, was arrested Monday afternoon by Private C. W. Lutton, of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police, on a charge of violating conditions of a parole on which he was placed recently by the Adams county courts. Officer Lutton charges that Bly drove a car in disobedience of a court order barring him from driving. He has been committed to jail at the direction of the court.

Boy Scouts to Hear Talk on Discipline

Col. Lester L. Lampert, commandant of the Gettysburg college R. O. T. C., will speak on "The Importance of Discipline," at the third of a series of Boy Scout leadership meetings at St. James Lutheran church Wednesday evening. The meeting scheduled for last Wednesday was postponed until December because of the Halloween parade.

Richard Ridinger will have charge of the opening ceremony. A talk on the civics merit badge will be given by Paul Mehring, of the Lincoln school faculty. Ray Zaner, York, Boy Scout executive of the York-Adams area, will talk on tin can craft and rope and its uses.

Mr. Zaner has announced that certificates will be awarded to Scouts attending six of the eight scheduled meetings.

URGE LIFTING OF BARRIERS ON APPLE MARKET

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Elimination of trade barriers which they said had "practically wiped out" the Argentine market for this country's apples and pears since 1930 was sought today by a group of five senators and seven house members.

Joining in an appeal to the State and Agriculture departments, they advocated inclusion in a prospective trade agreement with Argentina of provisions binding Argentine duties on a parity with those of the United States and guaranteeing abandonment by the South American nation of "present unreasonable sanitary and exchange control restrictions."

"Since 1939," the group said, "nine stringent so-called sanitary restrictions have been placed against United States apples and pears. These technical restrictions amount to every effort short of embargo."

Car in Lemoyne Crash Sought by Police Here

A teletype message received by so or police here and relayed to borough officers asked police at Gettysburg to be on the lookout for green 1934 model Ford coupe with new wheels bearing West Virginia license No. 126-183. The car has a broken windshield and is wanted for being involved in hit-and-run accident at Lemoyne about 6:20 o'clock this morning. It was last seen headed toward Gettysburg.

Hospital Report

Clare Cook, New Oxford, was operated upon at the Warner hospital this morning for the removal of her appendix.

George Slaybaugh, York Springs, D. D., was X-rayed Monday evening for a fracture of his right shoulder. Those admitted included Mrs. Grace Collins, York street; Brown McNaughton, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Harry Thoman, East Berlin; Mrs. LeRoy Winebrenner, Baltimore street, and James H. Kelly, Littlestown. Frank Weidner, New Oxford, and Francis Kane, Guernsey, were discharged as patients.

Altoona Cripple Visits Here; First Long Trip in 26 Yrs.

Thomas Russell, 43, of Altoona, who has been paralyzed for the last 24 years following an illness 26 years ago, visited his aunt, Mrs. Mary Myers, Bonneville, over the week-end. This was Mr. Russell's first long trip in 26 years and was made in his private ambulance. He was accompanied by his sister, Mary Jane Russell, a nurse, his father, Nathaniel Russell, and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Matlock and chauffeur, Gerald Barry. He was visited by nearly 100 friends from Gettysburg, New Oxford, McSherrystown and Bonneville during his stay.

During the last few years he has followed such hobbies as knitting, crocheting and weaving and has gained one of the finest stamp collections in the state. He numbers among his friend such personalities as Red Grange, Lowell Thomas and Jack Dempsey.

Enroute home he visited his uncle, Ambrose Small, Gettysburg.

George N. Bushey, 65, Fatally Hurt Today in York Springs Collision

George N. Bushey, 65, retired thresherman of York Springs R. 1, was fatally injured in an automobile accident this morning at the intersection of High street and the Hanover-Carlisle highway at the northwestern edge of York Springs.

Mr. Bushey died at 12:45 o'clock this afternoon in the Warner hospital without regaining consciousness. A fractured skull caused death.

Two youths, occupants of the truck which struck Mr. Bushey's 1929 model sedan, were injured in the mishap, but their hurts were said to be not serious.

Turned Toward Service Station

The crash occurred at 8:15 o'clock, according to information gathered on the accident by Officer C. W. Hamberger, of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police. Dr. Edgar A. Miller, Adams county coroner, began his investigation of the accident this afternoon but did not indicate whether an inquest will be held.

Officer Hamberger's investigation showed that Mr. Bushey had been traveling north when he drove to the right edge of the highway and then swerved sharply toward a service station on the left where he had parked a small trailer earlier in the morning.

As he crossed the highway his car moved into the path of a south-bound milk truck operated by Arthur L. Livingston, 17, East Berlin R. 1. The machine is owned by Frank Krall, dairyman of near East Berlin.

The truck hit the Bushey car broadside and threw it against a tree in front of the home of J. Harvey Neely. The car was badly damaged. Mr. Bushey was lying unconscious across the back of the front seat when the car stopped.

Truck Stops on Lawn After the collision the milk truck ran off the highway and passed between two trees onto the lawn of Walter Wolfe where it came to a stop.

Mr. Bushey was taken to the office of Dr. Robert Stoner, York Springs, for emergency treatment and then rushed to the Warner hospital in the C. Pittenturf ambulance.

Arthur Livingston and his brother, John, aged 12 years, the only other occupants of the truck, also were treated by Doctor Stoner. Arthur had a cut on his right hand and bruises of the left arm and left knee. His brother received a deep laceration over the right eye and suffered lacerations of the face and a cut in the left wrist.

Mr. Bushey was riding alone in a car. The front of the milk truck was badly damaged in the collision. Officer Hamberger is continuing his investigation. No charges have been filed.

Mr. Bushey is survived by his widow; three daughters, Mary, at home; Mrs. Lloyd Bantz, Dillsburg; and Mrs. Marie Davidson, Idaville; one son, Glenn, Hanover; one brother, Elmer, Harrisburg; and one sister, Mrs. Oliver Prosser, Latimore. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Rev. Foulk Elected Hanover Minister

The Rev. Paul Levi Foulk, who for the last ten years has served as pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, Altoona, was unanimously elected pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, York street, Hanover, to succeed the late Rev. Dr. O. C. Dean, at a congregational meeting held Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Foulk is a native of Adams county, having been born December 31, 1896, on a farm near Littlestown. He was educated in a rural school and later attended the Shippensburg State normal school. He then taught two terms of one year each in ungraded country schools.

He was graduated from Gettysburg academy in 1918, and then served in the United States Navy in foreign service during the last year of the World war. This was followed by special academic work at Pennsylvania State college during the summer of 1919, and he was graduated from Gettysburg college with the bachelor of arts degree in 1922.

The Rev. Mr. Foulk was graduated from the Lutheran Theological seminary here in 1925 and also received his master of arts degree from Gettysburg college in the same year.

MISHAP IN SQUARE

No one was injured this morning about 10 o'clock when a car operated by C. A. Rodgers, New Oxford R. 2, and a truck driven by Gerald Hamer, Goldstone, North Carolina, collided in center square. Neither vehicle was seriously damaged. Borough Officer Glenn Guise investigated.

LIGHT VOTE BEING CAST

Voting was light in Gettysburg during the first seven hours of balloting at the general election today and reports from other boroughs and townships of the county indicated that the number of electors appearing at the polling places was below expectations.

Unless late afternoon and evening balloting is unusually heavy, less than the expected 70 per cent of the county's 19,500 electors will have exercised their franchise when the polls close at 8 o'clock this evening.

A total of 1,133 men and women had cast ballots up to 2:30 o'clock in the four Gettysburg voting places as against 1,269 at the same hour during the last general election for county offices in 1935.

In the first precinct of the first ward only 240 residents had voted up to the time a Gettysburg Times reporter made a check this afternoon. In the second precinct of the same ward the figure was 262. Voting appeared to be the heaviest in the second ward where 327 voters had cast ballots but in the third ward the total had reached only 304.

Election board officials here reported no difficulties up to early afternoon and Judge Harvey Gross, York, who is presiding specially in Adams county court today had not been called upon to issue any orders involving election problems by 2 o'clock.

Judge W. C. Sheely went to Fulton county where he will hold court until early evening when he will return here and relieve Judge Gross. Court will remain in session until 10 o'clock this evening. J. Donald Swope, Esq., counsel for the county board of elections, was on duty at the court house today to handle legal questions that might arise.

Local contests in the various townships and boroughs are expected to draw many voters to the polls during the late hours of voting although interest centers in the outcome of balloting for 13 important county offices.

Election returns will be received at the Eagle hotel and at the commissioners' office in the court house this evening.

For the fourteenth consecutive election, Constable Horace L. Bender cast the first ballot in the third ward of Gettysburg. He was the first voter in line when the doors opened at 7 o'clock this morning.

APPLY FOR LICENSE Joseph L. Kale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kale, Hanover, and Agnes C. Livelsberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Livelsberger, McSherrystown, have applied here for a marriage license.

HULL OPPOSES TRANSFER OF SHIPS' REGISTRY

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP) — Secretary Hull expressed today his opposition to the transfer to Panamanian registry of United States Lines ships, as impairing the integrity of the neutrality act.

Hull said he had given this opinion to the Maritime commission. He did not indicate what the commission's reaction was.

The United States Lines applied for permission to transfer to Panamanian registry nine ships which had been in trans-Atlantic service.

After one member of the commission had said Monday that the transfer had been approved, the full commission issued after a late night session a statement saying that it was deferring final action, pending an investigation of all the facts.

At his press conference, Hull recalled that Monday he had told the maritime commission there was no question of foreign policy involved in the transfer, but that his opinion was given in the absence of virtually any of the facts.

The secretary of State added that as some of the facts pertaining to the application of the United States Lines for transfer of registry had since come to him, he did not feel favorably impressed with them.

ment and a $1,000 payroll, councilmen agreed no new loans will be necessary this month.

The monthly report of Burgess C. A. Heiges showed collections of $821.39, including $66 for building permits, $156 for digging permits, $430.89 in theatre tax and $148.50 from annual licenses for garbage collectors.

Trucks Damage Walk

An offer for a supply of chlorine gas sufficient for 1940 at the sewage disposal plant was declined on the grounds that the matter should be left for the incoming council to act on.

D. C. Stallsmith, North Stratton street, a former councilman, appeared before council to report that the third sidewalk he has placed along a property at the corner of North Stratton and Railroad street has been broken by trucks driving over it in violation of a sign placed there by another council. His property was promised police protection.

A letter was read from George A. Sachs, Edgewood, Maryland, telling of an "unpleasant and sometimes sickening odor" that he noticed in the eastern section of Gettysburg during a recent visit. He traced the odor to rubbish burning on a dump near the disposal plant and asked that the matter be given attention. The sewer committee was asked to investigate.

Gets Census Query

A query was received from the Bureau of the Census about a complete survey of homes made here as a C.W.A. project in 1934 at a cost of about $7,500. The required information will be forwarded.

A warning was ordered sent to Frank Deardorff, West Middle street, that unless he obeys previous "final notices" to lay a pavement at his East Middle street property this week, the borough will place the new sidewalk and bill him for it.

A complaint was received from citizens of the east end of York street asking that a new screen be placed over smokestacks at the furniture factories. A letter will be sent to company officials directing their attention to the matter.

Subs Barred From Panamanian Waters

Panama, Nov. 7 (AP) — Submarines of belligerent nations were prohibited from entering Panamanian waters, ports, havens or anchorages except in cases of emergency, in a government decree issued today.

The measure was aimed to prevent violation of Panama's neutrality or of rendering invalid the effects of the Panama declaration relative to the continental maritime security zone.

(The republic of Panama on September 11 prohibited ships of belligerent powers from "shuttling" between the Canal Zone and Panamanian waters. This meant that a belligerent merchantman which already had spent the three months permitted by international law in a Canal Zone port could not move them to Panamanian waters for a similar period or refuge.)

ROUTINE BUSINESS

Only routine business was transacted at the regular monthly meeting of the Arendtsville borough council Monday evening.

The society decided to hold its annual Thank-offering meeting in connection with the regular February meeting. Miss Iva Fish, a missionary on furlough from India, will be the guest speaker.

An invitation from the Marsh Creek society to attend its Thank-offering service Sunday evening, November 19, was received.

Man-Made Migration Almost Fatal to Bird

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—A timid little awl-billed bird flew the airlines back to Detroit today, saved by chance from what might have been its doom instead of an intended haven.

A Pennsylvania airlines employee who found the tiny creature shivering in a Detroit filling station Monday took it to be a hummingbird which the Detroit Zoo said certainly should have left for tropical Brazil two months ago.

Twentieth century transportation was decided upon to enable the handful of feathers to catch up with nature. Three big airlines hurriedly arranged to transport the bird to South America.

Photographers rushed to the airport here to take pictures of the first hummingbird ever to migrate by plane. A nature study class assembled quickly for a glimpse of the prize.

Then after the bird continued toward Washington, development of photographs disclosed the hummingbird wasn't that at all. Naturalists said it was a brown creeper, native of the north, and predicted it would fall victim of a heat stroke in South America.

This news resulted in the migration by plane ending at Washington where the strange passenger in its cardboard box was transferred to a Detroit-bound ship.

German Seamen Taken To Norwegian Fortress

Bergen, Nov. 7 (AP) — Seventeen German seamen, the erstwhile prize crew of the American freighter City of Flint, were removed from the minelayer Olav Trygvason today to be taken to the fortress at Kongsvinger, near the Swedish border.

The Germans, held when Norway returned the City of Flint to her American crew, were expected to leave on tonight's train for the trip across northern Norway.

The American crew, granted no shore leave, was busy putting the ship in order. This was not taken as an indication of early departure, however, as ship chandlers reported no provisions had been put aboard.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, United States minister to Norway, and Maurice P. Dunlap, consul at Bergen, who visited the ship Monday, declined to discuss disposition of the cargo or departure plans.

Deanery Study Club Group Conducts Program

The regular monthly meeting of the local chapter of the National Council of Catholic Women was held Monday evening in the social rooms of St. Francis Xavier's school. About 100 members were present, including 40 guests from the seven parishes of the deanery.

After the transaction of routine business, the secretary, Miss Ruth Hamilton, read from the "Monthly Message" an article entitled "Are You Making the Most of N.C.C.W.?"

The program was in charge of the deanery study club committee, whose members presented a study club panel discussion. Those who participated were Miss Rhoda Berghner, who explained how study clubs should be conducted, the duties of the leader and suggestions for the members; Miss Lindora Roddy, who gave reasons why a bridge club member would be a valuable asset to a study club; Mrs. Edward Farrell, who told why a business woman should join a discussion club; Miss Marie Robinson, who gave the student's viewpoint, and Mrs. Marie Steinour, who showed how a housewife would benefit from a study club. For her part in the program Miss Anna McSherry offered persistent objections to study clubs, but finally agreed they are the most effective means of keeping in touch with current topics.

Mrs. F. R. Rowe reviewed the book, "The Masterful Monk," by Owen Francis Dudley. The Rev. Fr. Raphael Gross gave a brief account of the private life of this English author. Father Gross also spoke on Catholic Action.

A vocal selection was presented by the Misses Lillian, Verna and Monica Redding.

Following the meeting a social hour was held. The next meeting will be held on December 4.

Discusses Neutrality Act for Rotarians

Dr. R. S. Saby, member of the Gettysburg college faculty, explained to members of the local Rotary club Monday evening the provisions of the neutrality law passed last week by congress.

There were 38 Rotarians at the luncheon-meeting in the Y.W.C.A. center square. Paul D. Thomas, of Gettysburg, was admitted as a new member of the club. Charles L. Eicholtz, president, presided.

DECLINES, WITHOUT THANKS

Nuagola, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—William A. Lewis says if he is elected to council of this Luzerne county borough today he'll resign immediately. Lewis, a republican nominee, complained to the county election board that he didn't even win the nomination, but was advised there was no time to change the ballot.

STRAIGHT AND TRUE

New Brighton, Nov. 7 (AP)—Jack Gentzel, 16-year-old devotee of archery, accompanied his father on a hunting trip and bagged the first rabbit with his little arrows.

FOOD LAWS EASED

Berlin, Nov. 7 (AP)—German housewives today welcomed announcement of a liberalization in food rationing. Starting November 20 the weekly meat ration for each person will be raised from 17.6 to 18.7 ounces. There will be an additional allowance in December for the holidays. The butter allowance will be raised from four to five ounces weekly. For December every German will be permitted to buy six eggs.

LETTER TELLS OF 100 AMERICANS STILL IN WARSAW

Berlin, Nov. 7 (AP) — A letter from a reliable person in Warsaw dated November 3 describing the condition of about 100 Americans still in the Polish city has been seen by the Associated Press correspondent.

"Life gradually is resuming its normal course," the writer said.

"Most houses already have water and electric light. One is already permitted to send letters but only to German and in the German language. That is why I am not writing you in English. (Presumably this restriction applied only to Poles.)

"It is very difficult to buy postage stamps. Sometimes the post-office doesn't sell any at all and when any are put on sale the public must often stand several hours before the window. I had to stand four hours."

After describing how the American colony of 569 registered last January 1 as permanently living in Poland had dwindled gradually when war approached and how 62 Americans departed September 21 when diplomats were taken from the city, the writer continued:

"Now there are about 100 American citizens in Warsaw, mostly of Polish extraction or women who married Poles — for example, Mrs. Klmpel, formerly Gloria Patricia Wright, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Korman, formerly Wilcie Dickerson, of Birmingham, Alabama, and Mrs. Szukalski, formerly Joan Lee Donovan, of New Bedford, Massachusetts.

"Winston Cram, of Nashville, Tennessee, chief of the Methodist mission, also remained in Warsaw. There also is a group of American nuns who studied at the university.

"Most of these Americans would like to leave Warsaw and return to America. American women who married Poles would like to leave Europe with their husbands, but it is exceedingly difficult to obtain permission for the husbands, as they are Polish nationals.

"The American consulate has no information concerning the number of Americans in other Polish cities."

Man-Made Migration Almost Fatal to Bird

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—A timid little awl-billed bird flew the airlines back to Detroit today, saved by chance from what might have been its doom instead of an intended haven.

A Pennsylvania airlines employee who found the tiny creature shivering in a Detroit filling station Monday took it to be a hummingbird which the Detroit Zoo said certainly should have left for tropical Brazil two months ago.

Twentieth century transportation was decided upon to enable the handful of feathers to catch up with nature. Three big airlines hurriedly arranged to transport the bird to South America.

Photographers rushed to the airport here to take pictures of the first hummingbird ever to migrate by plane. A nature study class assembled quickly for a glimpse of the prize.

Then after the bird continued toward Washington, development of photographs disclosed the hummingbird wasn't that at all. Naturalists said it was a brown creeper, native of the north, and predicted it would fall victim of a heat stroke in South America.

This news resulted in the migration by plane ending at Washington where the strange passenger in its cardboard box was transferred to a Detroit-bound ship.

Deanery Study Club Group Conducts Program

The regular monthly meeting of the local chapter of the National Council of Catholic Women was held Monday evening in the social rooms of St. Francis Xavier's school. About 100 members were present, including 40 guests from the seven parishes of the deanery.

After the transaction of routine business, the secretary, Miss Ruth Hamilton, read from the "Monthly Message" an article entitled "Are You Making the Most of N.C.C.W.?"

The program was in charge of the deanery study club committee, whose members presented a study club panel discussion. Those who participated were Miss Rhoda Berghner, who explained how study clubs should be conducted, the duties of the leader and suggestions for the members; Miss Lindora Roddy, who gave reasons why a bridge club member would be a valuable asset to a study club; Mrs. Edward Farrell, who told why a business woman should join a discussion club; Miss Marie Robinson, who gave the student's viewpoint, and Mrs. Marie Steinour, who showed how a housewife would benefit from a study club. For her part in the program Miss Anna McSherry offered persistent objections to study clubs, but finally agreed they are the most effective means of keeping in touch with current topics.

Mrs. F. R. Rowe reviewed the book, "The Masterful Monk," by Owen Francis Dudley. The Rev. Fr. Raphael Gross gave a brief account of the private life of this English author. Father Gross also spoke on Catholic Action.

2 HITCH-HIKERS 'KIDNAP' DRIVER

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP) — Lloyd C. Taylor, 34-year-old Bethesda, Maryland, cement contractor, hopes to complete today an errand interrupted by a mischance which landed him more than 100 miles from home.

Twelve hours after setting out "to see about a job" near Washington, Taylor reported to Pennsylvania state police Monday night that two hitch-hikers had forced him to drive from the District of Columbia line to a point on route 22, five miles east of Harrisburg, where they made him get out.

One of the men leveled a pistol at him soon after being given a lift, Taylor reported. He had to drive through his home town, then to Martinsburg, West Virginia, where he had to buy gas for his unwelcome passengers — and on through Chambersburg and Harrisburg.

Taylor walked back to Harrisburg after being forced from his car.

State troopers found it later on a lonely road six miles from here.

News notes from the Biglerville—Arendts

TENNESSEE 1ST IN GRID POLL FOR THIRD WEEK

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Nov. 7 (AP).—Although Tennessee is rated the best football team in the country for the third straight week, the outstanding game on this week's schedule is Texas A. and M. against Southern Methodist. That much probably could be figured out by any fan without the assistance of the weekly Associated Press national football ranking poll, but the tabulated votes of the experts prove it.

Tennessee, polled the first-place votes of 88 of the 118 participants and a total of 1,114 points this week. But next Saturday they go into hibernation again, meeting the Citadel of Charleston, South Carolina, last-place team of the southern conference.

Texas Aggies, placed first by six of the experts and ranked third for the week with a total of 854 points, encounter the Southern Methodist Mustangs in what may be the deciding game of the southwest conference race. Some football followers in their home territory rate the Mustangs even better than the Aggies and practically all agree they're the main barrier between Texas A. and M. and a perfect season. S.M.U. landed in 14th place in this week's ranking with 69 points.

Notre Dame just beat out Texas A. and M. for second place, moving up two notches from fourth while the Aggies jumped from sixth to third. Michigan, second a week ago, skidded back to ninth place as a result of their defeat by Illinois.

Standings of the teams (points figured on 10-9-8-7-6, etc. basis, with first-place votes in parentheses):

Team	Points
1. Tennessee (88)	1,114
2. Notre Dame (11)	857
3. Texas A. and M. (6)	854
4. Southern Methodist (6)	799
5. Cornell (1)	708
6. Oklahoma (3)	622
7. North Carolina	391½
8. Tulane	390½
9. Michigan	304
10. (Tie) Ohio State	102
10. (Tie) U.C.L.A.	102
Second ten:
12. Duquesne	86
13. Dartmouth	70
14. Southern Methodist	69
15. Santa Clara	58
16. Duke	46
17. New York University	24
18. Kentucky	23
19. San Jose (Calif.) State	12
20. Mississippi	9

Also ran—Alabama, 8; Nebraska and Clemson, 7 each; Northwestern, 6; Holy Cross, 5; Purdue, 4; Missouri and Fordham, 2 each; Catholic university, Georgetown, Iowa, Texas, Carnegie Tech and Oregon State, 1 each.

Arizona State has its eye on the Sun bowl and makes no bones about it. . . . Ray Flaherty of the Washington Redskins says the best back in the east is Jim Gillette, of Virginia—says he'd take him over Kinnick of Iowa. . . . Bob Harlow, de luxe press agent, back on the job at Pinehurst, reports the No. 1 course there has been stiffened.

He should worry—Eugene Young, Notre Dame trainer, is getting ready for the well known rainy day. . . . He's a graduate in law and is licensed in four states. . . . He also is taking a medical course. . . . And just as insurance, he's bought a nut farm in Mississippi.

At last!—We are glad to note the Melrose, (Minnesota) high school finally has gotten around to giving Wilfred Hetzel, the basketball freak shot expert, the "M" he won there back in 1929.

DIMAGGIO WEDDING NOV. 19
San Francisco, Nov. 7 (AP).—November 19 is the announced date for the marriage of Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankee outfielder, and Dorothy Arnold, Duluth, Minnesota, radio singer and screen actress. The baseball star said Monday night the wedding would be at St. Peter and St. Paul's church, and his brother, Tom, would act as best man. Miss Arnold is in San Francisco now. She met Joe in New York more than a year ago when she was singing for the radio. More recently she has been working in Hollywood.

DAD SEES FIRST GRID GAME
Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP).—When Floyd Rokisky, of Clarksburg, West Virginia, came to Pittsburgh last Saturday for the Duquesne Dads' Day celebration, he not only saw his son, John, play for the first time but also witnessed his first football game. Papa Rokisky had looked with disfavor on the sport until he saw the Dukes' thrilling comeback—with his son playing a prominent part—to defeat Marquette.

BROWNS' COACH TO BOSTON
St. Louis, Nov. 6 (AP).—The Browns announced today the release of Coach Frank Shellenback to enable him to accept a similar position with the Boston Red Sox. Shellenback formerly was manager of San Diego and for many years a pitcher in the Pacific coast league. He was coach of the Browns for one season.

EAGLES AT PEAK
Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP).—Despite a bruising, losing battle with the Washington Redskins Sunday, Bert Bell's Philadelphia Eagles are at their peak for next Sunday's pro football game with the Green Bay Packers. The contest will be the first on home territory in six weeks and the next to last of the season. On Thanksgiving Day, they meet the Pittsburgh Pirates in municipal stadium.

FAMILY AFFAIR
Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP).—It will be a family affair when undefeated Frankford meets Northeast high today in a football game expected to produce the champion of the public high conference. Frankford is coached by 46-year-old Ellwood Geiges; Northeast by Harold (Gus) Geiges, his "kid" brother. The referee is Carl Geiges, 41, another brother.

That Drug Store Joke . . .
Geggers have a lot of fun jibing at the drug store that "sells everything but drugs." . . . But here's one store that still places emphasis upon drugs—and upon the prompt and proper filling of prescriptions. Not that we're "behind the times," you understand—our stocks and equipment are modern to the minute. . . . But we believe that, like many others, you prefer to have prescriptions filled in an atmosphere of professional dignity, where the highest ethical standards are maintained.

Win's letter—Charlie Harris, of San Antonio, goes to the head of this week's class in guesstopping. . . . He took a shot at all eight of our football puzzlers and called 'em all except the Furman-Virginia Poly game. . . . More than 50 jerned in the fun. . . . Iowa and Boston college were the teams that done 'em wrong.

He's tops—One reason Dick Harlow, of Harvard, rates high with sports writers is that he can take it as well as dish it out. He says: "I know as well as you do our team hasn't done well. . . . I have taken your praise and I hope I am man enough to take your criticism." . . . Spoken like a real gent, we say.

Some bright young guy like Luckman or Goldberg can have the football coaching job at Long Island university Clair Bee wants to step down and devote all his time to coaching the basketball team and acting as athletic director.

LOOKING AROUND

The week-end football forecast resulted in 19 right, five wrong and one tie. The total is now 109 right, 29 wrong and 12 tie.

When Gettysburg lost the toss to Muhlenberg at the start of the game Saturday, Coach "Hen" Bream made a last second change in the lineup with Johnny Yovicin replacing "Hank" Freeze at end. Coach Bream had every intention of yanking Yovicin after he kicked off but soon discovered the former Steelton star was in far better shape than expected. "Yovicin" had been doing a lot of conditioning through running and bicycling in addition to the regular drills and it now appears he will see considerable action the remainder of the season after having been declared out for the season last week.

The victory for the Bullets was the first scored over the Mulis since Coach "Doggie" Julian took over the reins in 1936. As a result the Bream-men are favorites to cop the Eastern Pennsylvania conference title but cannot afford to let down this week when they meet a tough F. and M. eleven at Lancaster on Saturday.

Gettysburg high's scrappy eleven gave Waynesboro much more opposition than was expected. On Saturday the Maroons met Hershey here and then face Carlisle and Hanover on successive week-ends. Each of the games will be conference affairs and the Forney-men have high hopes of improving their standing through victories.

Reserved tickets have been placed on sale at the college gymnasium office and at the Britcher and Bender drug store for the Gettysburg-P. and M. game.

According to well-founded rumors there may be no Adams county interscholastic soccer league next season. There has been a growing dissatisfaction in several schools over soccer with the result that the league may disband. Touch football, which has proven popular as an intramural sport, may replace soccer. Fairfield and York Springs high schools have played several touch grid games this fall. At Arendtsville speed ball game has proven popular as played by class teams. Eleven players comprise a team. No running with the ball is allowed but players may kick, catch or pass the ball. A field similar to a soccer field is used for play. It is probable speed ball may be considered to replace the soccer league.

The Gettysburg college freshman football team faces its severest test of the season Friday afternoon when it clashes with Muhlenberg at Allentown.

3 Girls and Boy Die in N. J. Fire
Plainfield, N. J., Nov. 7 (AP).—Three girls and a boy, trapped in second floor bedrooms, burned to death early today in a fire that quickly consumed their two-story frame home.

The dead were Dorothy Harris, 17; Raymond, 6, a brother; Margaret, 4, sister, and Ann Finkbiener, 20, of Newark, a cousin who came to take charge of the household after the children's mother died several months ago.

The only one to escape from the second floor was a brother, Robert, 15, who responded to cries from his father, George Harris, 55, one-legged painter who slept downstairs.

The father, distraught by the tragedy, told how, aroused by the flames, he seized a chair as a prop for his amputated leg and hobbled to the stairways to waken the others.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT
State College, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP).—As many as 32 per cent of all pheasants shot at and crippled will never be recovered by the hunter if last year's experience holds true this season, the Pennsylvania co-operative wildlife unit reported today. Figures obtained from 176 co-operating sportsmen in eight eastern counties showed 631 ringneck pheasants shot with 202 of them not recovered.

PITT-CARNEGIE THRILLS
Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP).—An offensive duel between Dick Cassiano of Pitt and Merlyn Condit of Carnegie Tech seems likely when the two teams renew their city grid rivalry Saturday. While both squads are hard at work on the practice field, ticket sales are soaring with prospects of a crowd of 50,000.

WOE TO HIT-RUN DRIVERS
Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP).—Despite a recent outbreak of unsolved hit-run accidents, police records showed today that hit-run drivers in Philadelphia have only 3.3 chances in 100 of escaping detection. Of the 655 hit-run cases here this year detectives have solved all but 22.

MYSTERY CANDIDATE
Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP).—There's a mystery candidate in Kibuck township. Although a Mr. Lawrey received enough votes to get the democratic nomination for justice of the peace, nobody seems to know him. One of the older residents recalls a Mr. Lawrey lived in the township about six years ago but moved away.

NEUTRALS SEEN AIDING BERLIN WITH U. S. GOODS

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP).—Government figures indicated today that Germany's neutral neighbors may have run millions of dollars worth of American goods past the allied blockade to the reich in the first month of the war.

Officials declined to discuss the possibility, but the Commerce department published figures showing that although Germany obtained scarcely anything from the United States in September, her neutral neighbors greatly stepped up their purchases here.

In September, 1938, for instance, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Belgium, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland together bought $34,611,000 from the United States. Of that total, $12,675,000 was bought by Germany alone.

This September, Germany's purchases fell off to $607,000 but the American purchases of the middle European group totaled $33,460,000—virtually the same as last year.

Neutrals shopped for Germany in the world war, with the result that England and France started rationing them in an attempt to limit their imports to quantities they needed only for themselves.

At least part of the September increase in exports to European neutrals was caused by the disruption of their normal purchases from England, France and Germany.

If Germany sent other countries shopping here in September, the figures indicate that Italy and Russia probably were not so employed. Italy's imports from the United States increased only from $4,158,000 in September, 1938, to $4,434,000 this September, while Russia's imports fell from $5,595,000 to $1,785,000. Spain's imports gained, but this was believed due to the fact that Spain is now rebuilding its war wreckage.

France and England, importing directly from the United States, increased their purchases here. France bought $11,235,000 worth of American goods in September, 1938, and $12,132,000 in September, 1939. England boosted its purchases from $49,301,000 to $60,339,000.

TENNESSEE 1ST IN GRID POLL FOR THIRD WEEK

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 7 (AP).—Although Tennessee is rated the best football team in the country for the third straight week, the outstanding game on this week's schedule is Texas A. and M. against Southern Methodist.

That much probably could be figured out by any fan without the assistance of the weekly Associated Press national football ranking poll, but the tabulated votes of the experts prove it.

Tennessee, polled the first-place votes of 88 of the 118 participants and a total of 1,114 points this week. But next Saturday they go into hibernation again, meeting the Citadel of Charleston, South Carolina, last-place team of the southern conference.

Texas Aggies, placed first by six of the experts and ranked third for the week with a total of 854 points, encounter the Southern Methodist Mustangs in what may be the deciding game of the southwest conference race. Some football followers in their home territory rate the Mustangs even better than the Aggies and practically all agree they're the main barrier between Texas A. and M. and a perfect season.

S.M.U. landed in 14th place in this week's ranking with 69 points.

Notre Dame just beat out Texas A. and M. for second place, moving up two notches from fourth while the Aggies jumped from sixth to third.

Michigan, second a week ago, skidded back to ninth place as a result of their defeat by Illinois.

Standings of the teams (points figured on 10-9-8-7-6, etc. basis, with first-place votes in parentheses):

Team	Points
1. Tennessee (88)	1,114
2. Notre Dame (11)	857
3. Texas A. and M. (6)	854
4. Sou. California (6)	799
5. Cornell (1)	709
6. Oklahoma (3)	622
7. North Carolina	391½
8. Tulane	390½
9. Michigan	104
10. (Tie) Ohio State	102
10. (Tie) U.C.L.A.	102
Second ten:	12. Duquesne, 86;
13. Dartmouth, 70; 14. Southern Methodist, 69; 15. Santa Clara, 58;
16. Duke, 46; 17. New York University, 24; 18. Kentucky, 23; 19. San Jose (Calif.) State, 12; 20. Mississippi, 9.

Also ran—Alabama, 8; Nebraska and Clemson, 7 each; Northwestern, 6; Holy Cross, 5; Purdue, 4; Missouri and Fordham, 2 each; Catholic university, Georgetown, Iowa, Texas, Carnegie Tech and Oregon State, 1 each.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Nov. 7 (AP).—Carl Snively is telling inquirers he has no desire to move to California. . . . You're good if you can name the winner of this week's Clemson-Wake Forest football game. . . . If Gus Lesnevich hasn't been on the shelf too long, he might surprise a lot of people November 17, including Mr. Billy Conn. . . . Joe Ezer, the golf trick shot artist from Texas, has opened a school here. . . . New York votes on pari-mutuels today. Majority seems to favor the machines, but the track crowd is not so sure.

Today's guest star—Morris Frank, Houston Post: "This Jack Crain, Texas university's sophomore back, is just like having scarlet fever in your house. . . . You know it's going to strike you some time—all you can do is wait and pray."

Philadelphia, Lake Placid, New Haven and Boston are bidding for the national A.A.U. hockey championships in March. . . . We are tipped two southwestern coaches are going to go out on their car, rain or shine, and that one of the up New York state big shots is not answering the door bell. . . . Lou Nova has gone to Tucson, Arizona, to recover from bronchitis. . . . Out west they're still talking about what a swell job Tom Harmon did making Illinois forget Red Grange! . . . Flash—Bert Niehoff, Jersey City manager, predicts Carl Hubbell will do a sensational comeback next year.

Wins his letter—Charlie Harris, of San Antonio, goes to the head of this week's class in guessperring. . . . He took a shot at all eight of our football puzzlers and called 'em all except the Furman-Virginia Poly game. . . . More than 50 jerned in the fun. . . . Iowa and Boston college were the teams that done 'em wrong.

He's top—One reason Dick Harlow, of Harvard, rates high with sports writers is that he can take it as well as dish it out. He says: "I know as well as you do our team hasn't done well. . . . I have taken your praise and I hope I am man enough to take your criticism." . . . Spoken like a real gent, we say.

Some bright young guy like Luckman or Goldberg can have the football coaching job at Long Island university Clair Bee wants to step down and devote all his time to coaching the basketball team and acting as athletic director. . . .

Arizona State has its eye on the Sun bowl and makes no bones about it. . . . Ray Flaherty of the Washington Redskins says the best back in the east is Jim Gillette, of Virginia—says he'd take him over Kinnick of Iowa. . . . Bob Harlow, de luxe press agent, back on the job at Pinehurst, reports the No. 1 course there has been stiffened.

He should worry—Eugene Young, Notre Dame trainer, is getting ready for the well known rainy day. . . .

He's a graduate in law and is licensed in four states. . . . He also is taking a medical course. . . . And just as insurance, he's bought a nut farm in Mississippi.

At last!—We are glad to note the Melrose, (Minnesota) high school finally has gotten around to giving Wilfred Hetzel, the basketball freak shot expert, the "M" he won there back in 1929.

DIMAGGIO WEDDING NOV. 19
San Francisco, Nov. 7 (AP).—November 19 is the announced date for the marriage of Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankee outfielder, and Dorothy Arnold, Duluth, Minnesota, radio singer and screen actress. The baseball star said Monday night the wedding would be at St. Peter and St. Paul's church, and his brother, Tom, would act as best man. Miss Arnold is in San Francisco now. She met Joe in New York more than a year ago when she was singing for the radio. More recently she has been working in Hollywood.

DAD SEES FIRST GRID GAME
Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP).—When Floyd Rokisky, of Clarkburg, West Virginia, came to Pittsburgh last Saturday for the Duquesne Dads' Day celebration, he not only saw his son, John, play for the first time but also witnessed his first football game. Papa Rokisky had looked with disfavor on the sport until he saw the Dukes' thrilling comeback—with his son playing a prominent part—to defeat Marquette.

BROWNS' COACH TO BOSTON
St. Louis, Nov. 6 (AP).—The Browns announced today the release of Coach Frank Shellenback to enable him to accept a similar position with the Boston Red Sox. Shellenback formerly was manager of San Diego and for many years a pitcher in the Pacific coast league. He was coach of the Browns for one season.

EAGLES AT PEAK
Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP).—Despite a bruising, losing battle with the Washington Redskins Sunday, Bert Bell's Philadelphia Eagles are at their peak for next Sunday's pro football game with the Green Bay Packers. The contest will be the first on home territory in six weeks and the next to last of the season. On Thanksgiving Day, they meet the Pittsburgh Pirates in municipal stadium.

FAMILY AFFAIR
Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP).—It will be a family affair when undefeated Frankford meets Northeast high today in a football game expected to produce the champion of the public high conference. Frankford is coached by 46-year-old Ellwood Geiges; Northeast by Harold (Gus) Geiges, his "kid" brother. The referee is Carl Geiges, 41, another brother.

Isn't This Why You Are Constipated?

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? White bread, meat, potatoes? It's little wonder you're constipated. You probably don't eat enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It's a kind of food that forms a soft "bulky" mass in the intestine and helps a movement. If this is your trouble, may we suggest a crunchy toasted cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran—for breakfast. All-Bran is a natural food, not a soft "bulky" mass in the intestine—but it's particularly rich in "bulk." Being so, it can help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. You won't have to endure constipation, you can avoid it. Eat All-Bran daily, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Subs Barred From Panamanian Waters

Panama Nov 7 (AP) — Submarines of belligerent nations were prohibited from entering Panamanian waters ports havens or anchorages except in cases of emergency in a government decrees issued today.

The measure was aimed to prevent violation of Panama's neutrality of rendering invalid the effects of the Panama declaration relative to the continental maritime security zone.

(The republic of Panama on September 11 prohibited ships of belligerent powers from shuttling between the Canal Zone and Panamanian waters. This meant that a belligerent merchantman which already had spent the three months permitted by international law in a Canal Zone port could not move there to Panamanian waters for a similar period or refuge.)

LETTER TELLS OF 100 AMERICANS STILL IN WARSAW

TELEPHONE 12 OR 61

Berlin Nov 7 (AP) — A letter from a reliable person in Warsaw dated November 3 describing the condition of about 100 Americans still in the Polish city has been seen by the Associated Press correspondent.

Life gradually is regaining its normal course' the writer said. Most houses already have water and electric light. One is already permitted to send letters but only to German and in the German language. That is why I am not writing you in English (Presumably this restriction applied only to Poles).

It is very difficult to buy postage stamps. Sometimes the post-office doesn't sell any at all and when any are put on sale the public must often stand several hours before the window. I had to stand four hours.

After describing how the American colony of 569 registered last January 1 as permanently living in Poland had dwindled gradually when war approached and how 62 Americans departed September 21 when diplomats were taken from the city the writer continued.

Now there are about 100 American citizens in Warsaw mostly of Polish extraction or women who married Poles — for example Mrs Klump formerly Gloria Patricia Wright of Washington D C, Mrs Korman formerly Wilie Dickerson of Birmingham Alabama and Mrs Szukalski formerly Joan Lee Donovan of New Bedford Massachusetts.

Winston Cram of Nashville, Tennessee chief of the Methodist mission also remained in Warsaw. There also is a group of American nuns who studied at the university.

Most of these Americans would like to leave Warsaw and return to America. American women who married Poles would like to leave Europe with their husbands but it is exceedingly difficult to obtain permission for the husbands as they are Polish nationals.

The American consulate has no information concerning the number of Americans in other Polish cities.

Deanery Study Club Group Conducts Program

The regular monthly meeting of the local chapter of the National Council of Catholic Women was held Monday evening in the social rooms of St. Francis Xavier's school. About 100 members were present including 40 guests from the seven parishes of the deanery.

After the transaction of routine business the secretary Miss Ruth Hamilton read from the Monthly Message in article entitled "Are You Making the Most of NOW?"

The program was in charge of the deanery study club committee whose members presented a study club panel discussion. Those who participated were Miss Rhoda Brighner who explained how study clubs should be conducted and suggestions for the members. Miss Ladora Roddy who gave reasons why a bridge club member would be a valuable asset to a study club. Mrs Edward Farrell who told why a business woman should join a discussion club. Miss Marie Robinson who gave the student's viewpoint and Mrs Marie Steiner who showed how a housewife would benefit from a study club. For her part in the program Miss Anna McSherry offered persistent objections to study clubs but finally agreed they are the most effective means of keeping in touch with current topics.

Mrs F R Rowe reviewed the book "The Masterful Monk" by Owen Francis Dudley. The Rev Fr Raphael Gross gave a brief account of the private life of this English author. Father Gross also spoke on Catholic Action.

A vocal selection was presented by the Misses Lillian Verna and Monica Redding.

Following the meeting a social hour was held. The next meeting will be held on December 4.

TUMULT OVER PENGUINS + NDS

Boston Nov 7 (AP) — Now that the tumult and the shouting over penguins at 150 a throw has died to a whisper Admiral Richard E Byrd can go ahead with arrangements for his forthcoming Antarctic expedition.

The admiral estimated Monday night that the expedition's departure had been delayed about a day because of the heavy response to his announcement that wished to place his 20 penguins in good homes before he left.

He forgot to mention the $150 price tag in his first announcement and so many telephone calls telegrams and personal visitors poured in on Byrd and his staff Monday that little could be done all day but turn the applicants away.

MINE WOUNDED AFTER ARGUMENT WITH COMPANION

State Policeman Charles Hartman of the Wyoming barracks and County Detective John Loughney of Luzerne county said that a widespread dragnet has been spread for Stanley Skawski 24, of Main street, DuPont who, they reported fled with his revolver following the shooting.

2 HITCH-HIKERS 'KIDNAP' DRIVER

TELEPHONE 12 OR 61

Harrisburg Pa Nov 7 (AP) — Lloyd C Taylor 34-year old Bethesda, Maryland cement contractor hopes to complete today an errand interrupted by a misadventure which landed him more than 100 miles from home.

Twelve hours after setting out to see about a job near Washington Taylor reported to Pennsylvania state police Monday night that two hitch hikers had forced him to drive from the District of Columbia line to a point on route 22 five miles east of Harrisburg where they made him get out.

One of the men leveled a pistol at him soon after being given a lift. Taylor reported he had to drive through his home town then to Martinsburg West Virginia where he had to buy gas for his unwelcome passengers — and on through Chambersburg and Harrisburg.

Taylor walked back to Harrisburg after being forced from his car. State troopers found it later on a lonely road six miles from here.

An Evening Thought

If men wish to be held in esteem, they must associate with those only who are estimable.—Bruyere.

Out of the Past

Happening of days gone by as chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times the files reveal.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local Miscellany: Melville Socks has been awarded the contract for sodding the mound of the Vermont State monument.

Samuel Bream, of near Biglerville has on hand yet about 1,000 bushels from his apple crop that yielded a total of 3,680 bushels, is selling from 35 to 60 cents per bushel; all are invited to come and buy.

The Gettysburg National Bank declared a semi annual dividend of 5 per cent, and the First National Bank of Gettysburg one of three per cent.

Mr. John L. Sherfy has erected a neat iron fence in front of his house on the Battlefield Fruit farm, and otherwise improved the entrance—utilizing, for this purpose, the fences around the monuments at the sides of the gateway.

Farewell Missionary Meeting: On Wednesday evening a large audience assembled in Christ church to attend a farewell meeting to Mr. Aberly who goes as a missionary to India. Mr. H. G. Snyder, of the Seminary, conducted the altar services, a select choir led the singing, and Mrs. McKnight, Valentine, Mr. Aberly and Dr. Uhl delivered addresses. The Rev. Dr. Hay pronounced the benediction.

Mr. Aberly ranks as one of the most promising students of the institution and will enter his new work thoroughly equipped for one of his years. Miss Sadtler, Mr. and Mrs. Aberly will sail about the middle of the month.

Personal Mention: Misses Kate and Lillie M. Miller, of this place, visited Harrisburg last week, as delegates to the Society of Christian Endeavor convention.

Gov. Beaver, Rev. Dr. Chambers, of Harrisburg, Col. J. C. Fuller and several ladies visited the battlefield Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Trump, of Martinsburg, W. Va., are visiting Mrs. Trump's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Schick.

Mr. David McConaughy, Jr., recently addressed an audience of six thousand persons in Mr. Spurgeon's great tabernacle, London, England. Mr. Spurgeon also addressed the meeting.

Prof. H. O. Himes, of New Oxford, returned home on Saturday evening from an extended tour of Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Italy.

Mr. James S. Welly has returned from a visit to his brother John B. Welly, Buffalo, Ind.

In the death of Mr. John Black, Cumberland township loses one of its oldest and most sterling citizens. His death was very sudden. He was in bright humor during the apple butter boiling in the evening, and retired at 10 o'clock. At 12 he was taken ill and died within a half hour.

Mr. S. R. Andrews, of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington, D. C., is home for election.

A pleasant family re-union was held Sunday last, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sheads in this place, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Sheads and Monday that of Mr. Sheads.

Mr. James S. Welly starts this week for Chicago, and will call engagements from that city to California for Capt. James T. Long's lecture on the battle of Gettysburg. The Capt. has engagements in the east until the middle of December.

Mr. John H. Slentz is visiting his brother, William, a resident of Pittsburgh.

Miss Margaret McClean has returned from a visit to Hanover.

D. A. Buehler is visiting his sister, Mrs. Rev. J. A. Wirt, Hughesville, Pa.

Among the names of those who have passed the civil service examination and been placed on the list of eligibles at Washington, D. C., we notice that following from this county, Male clerk salary of $1,000 and over, Martin L. Gates, New Oxford, per cent 83; male copyist, under $1,000, Simon P. Stover, McKnightstown, 75; female copyist, less than $1,000, Miss Mary Neely, York Springs, 85; Miss Jennie W. Brandon, 80. Miss Neely stands third in a class of 29.

The Presbyterian Organ: A Moller organ was recently placed in position in the Presbyterian church of this place. It is a fine piece of mechanism, cased in black walnut with hard oil finish, and front pipes ornamented in gold and colors. It has ten stops and 350 pipes, and the list price was $1,000. Its sweet and melodious tones were heard for the first time on Sunday under the delicate and artistic manipulation of Mrs. W. Hamilton Bayly, of Washington, D. C. The congregation was much pleased with their new instrument.

Teachers' Institute: The thirty-fifth annual session of the Adams County Teachers' Institute convened in the Court House on Monday of last week at 2 o'clock p. m., and was called to order by the Pres., Prof. Aaron Sheely, and opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Demarest.

Messrs. Storick, E. E. Taylor, Shutt, and Misses Miller and Majors were appointed a committee on organization. A number of persons were appointed as ushers with Mr. Chas. Landis as chairman. The following persons were reported as officers of the Institute: For Pres., A. Sheely; Vice Presidents, Thos. D. McCreery and R. A. Lytle; Sec., Horace Comfort; Asst. Sec., Miss Belle Griest, Robert Stultz; Treas., A. Sheely.

Messrs. R. A. Lytle, E. E. Taylor, John M. Wolf, Dr. H. Ditzler, Chas. Landis, Urban Gutelius, A. March, M. A. Powers, Jas. G. Stover, R. Stultz, Misses A. Deardorff, S. M. Myers, A. Warren and Mrs. J. L. Sowers were appointed a committee on music.

The President appointed the following a committee on resolutions: Thomas D. McCreery, D. F. Smith, E. A. Seabrooks, Belle Griest and Mary Neely.

He also appointed the following as a memorial committee: J. W. Thoman, D. A. Lytle, D. P. Delap, G. A. Warren and Estelle Vanscoyoc.

Miss Belle Griest, Thos. D. McCreery, E. E. Taylor, J. W. Thoman and M. L. Gates were appointed a committee on Permanent Certificates.

Supt. A. Sheely, Messrs. Lytle, Sowers, Hankey, Misses Lott, Neely, Dr. Sheets, New Oxford, C. L. Longsdorf, of Menallen, G. L. Deardorff, Latimore, Wm. Wible, Cumberland, and S. Weidner, Butler, were appointed a committee to prepare a graded system of instruction for the ungraded schools of the county.

Mr. Sheely is to be congratulated on the complete success of the institute. There was a large attendance, valuable instruction and pleasant and profitable entertainment.

HITLER

No wife, no child, no playtime hour.
No love of anything but power.
No neighbors near, no family tie.
No caring who may live or die.

No friend beyond the moment's need.
No God, except the god of greed;
No pity and no wrong and right,
No faith in anything but might.

No morning song; no evening prayer.
No little patch of garden, where
In springtime blossom tulips gay,
Nothing but warfare night and day.

No home by patient labor earned;
No hearth where cherry logs are burned;
Nothing, save for a little while
The stupid cry, "Hell Hitler! Hell!"

GUN ISN'T LOADED

SO BANDITS ESCAPE.
Boston, Nov. 7 (AP).—The robber's gun wasn't loaded, so Papken Kechichian was shy $9 today.

Three bandits, each pointing a gun, walked into the store where Kechichian works and demanded the money from the till. Kechichian, a World war veteran, handed out the $9 and as one of the trio reached for the money, Kechichian grabbed the robber's gun and turned it on them.

There was a brief tableau, in which Kechichian threatened the two armed bandits and they threatened him. The bandits' nerve broke first and they ran. Kechichian took aim at the fleeing figure and pulled the trigger. Nothing happened so he slapped the empty weapon down on the counter in disgust and called police.

GERMAN PROPAGANDA

PAMPHLETS SENT TO U.S.
New York, Nov. 7 (AP).—Propaganda pamphlets charging that Great Britain supplied Poles with poison gas used against German soldiers last September have been mailed from Berlin to thousands of residents in several American cities.

Pamphlets were received in Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Newark and a number of other New Jersey communities. The Newark office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation acknowledged it had been informed of the propaganda flood but refused comment.

REPORTS ON CONTRABAND

London, Nov. 7 (AP).—R. H. Cross, minister of economic warfare, told the house of commons today Britain had seized 420,500 tons of merchandise as contraband in the first two months of war. Figures on the amount of merchandise detained for inquiry were not available, he said.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

WOULDN'T — SO COULDN'T

I HEARD of a Princeton football coach recently who coached what they termed a "team of destiny." What that team was isn't important. It was the coach who was important. Perhaps someone will give me his name.

Here is the statement, however, about that coach which should make him immortal among men. He once told his team that "a team that will not be beaten, cannot be beaten!" That's a thought that should sink deep into the consciousness of us all. It's a statement that we all can use in our journey through life.

That Princeton team was told that it wouldn't be defeated — so it couldn't!

You have heard about the chap who went ahead and did the job that people said "couldn't be done" — but he did it! How can a man be defeated who doesn't know what the term means? What are you going to do with a man who has a set purpose and refuses to give it up? If you are wise you will stand on the sidelines and learn a lesson from a heroic human being.

Don't let anyone tell you that you are "through." No man is through until he does — and then often like John Brown's body, "his soul goes marching on!"

The best antidote for discouragement and self-pity is to challenge yourself, and do something that surpasses anything that you have done before — and then start all over again and surpass that!

It is much more difficult to fail than it is to succeed. Every little success is a boost for every element that enters into it whereas failure demands all that you have got — and when you have thus surrendered you have no resources left. Not even a cane to lean upon.

We all need a coach to the soul these days, and if we would but know it, that coach silently awaits our call within our own mind and heart!

THE CREEPING MAN

By Frances Shelley Wees

YESTERDAY: Higgins denies knowledge that Murchison was murdered, but says he saw a bloody paper on the path. The next day Gordon Deane's dog drops dead from meat the Forresters were planning to eat.

Chapter 27

Dog Burial

As Michael put the car into the garage at the side of the house he heard the sound of hammering coming from the Deanes'. He went to the house, called in to Tuck, "I'll be out for a while, honey. Over with Gordon," and went down the path and around to the other house.

There as he expected, he found Gordon out in the yard, finishing the lid on the box that was to serve as Fred's coffin. Gordon's eyes looked as if they might have brimmed over at some not distant time; but Michael took no notice. He dropped down on one knee beside the lad, and put out a hand on the box.

"Good job there," he muttered. "Taken manual training lessons?"

"Yes," said Gordon. He got up and carried the box to the gate, then lifted the dog's body, lying there beside the hedge wrapped in a torn blanket, and laid it gently in the coffin.

"Give me one end," Michael said briefly, and picked it up, Gordon led off into the woods, toward the river bank, and Michael followed. The box was very light. Fred had been only a small dog. The world, Michael reflected, was full of small dogs; but, in Gordon's eyes, there would never be another one exactly like Freddie.

The grave was already dug, lying open underneath a great pine tree almost on the edge of the river. They put the box down, and Gordon lifted it to set it softly in the hole. He turned away for a minute before they started heaping dirt upon it. Michael gathered an armful of pine branches, while Gordon was finishing, and brought them to lay on the top. Gordon stood up. He blew his nose. Michael took out his cigarette case, looked at it, then turned and held it out to Gordon.

"Have a cigarette," he said, as man to man.

Gordon shook his head. "Don't smoke," he said gruffly, and straightened his shoulders.

Through the thin fringe of trees between them, and the river, the sunset was visible as through heavy lace. Gordon leaned his back against a tree and looked at it.

"Funny thing a fellow can't even have a dog," he said at last, with what started out as a nonchalance and ended with a hint of a catch in his throat.

Michael did not answer.

"Maybe they'll let me have a bike," Gordon said. "Mom thinks they're not safe."

"Not any too safe, the way some kids ride through the traffic," Michael replied.

"Nothin's safe. I had a boat once. Mom never found it out. She'd have thrown a fit. Dad did have a fit when he found out I had it."

"How'd you get a boat without their knowing?"

"Found it. It floated down one spring, and stayed here all summer without anybody coming after it. I took it. Saved my money, and gave it a swell paint job, and fixed it all up. He scuffed at the pine needles. 'Can't have nothin', he said."

"They take it away from you?"

"Who? Dad? No. Somebody swiped it."

"Maybe the owner found it."

"I'll Get Even"

"No chance. I had that boat hid. I kept it up a ravine with branches over it. If the owner had a wanted it he ought to a come for it sooner. It was my boat. No, somebody that saw me in it took it. Watched where I put it, and swiped it. I'd like to find out who, that's what I would. I bet it was the same guy poisoned Fred. You just wait. I'll get even with him."

"You're crazy," Michael said.

"Who'd have it in for a kid?"

Gordon looked at him sidewise.

"That's all right," he said at last, as if a little ashamed of himself.

"I was."

"Between what hours?"

"He came shortly after three, and left about half past five."

Michael stirred restlessly. Tuck shifted her position to one less likely to precipitate her on the floor.

"Why, Michael?"

"There's something I want you to understand too," he said slowly. "I can't count Duncan out because he's a charming person. I liked him too. He's a fine upstanding sort of young chap. Everybody has a good word for him. But, as dad says, this is a queer unlikely sort of business we're engaged in, and I've got to follow where the track leads. Bunny. Likes and dislikes don't count so much in an affair like this. I haven't got a thing against young Murchison yet. Not a thing. But if I do get the end of a string leading his way, I've got to follow it. Personal considerations can't be counted when it's murder, Bunny."

She flushed. "No," she said quietly. "I just didn't want you to think I was trying to put anything over on you. I want you to have the facts. I have the utmost confidence in your judgement and common sense."

"I wish his tongue were looser," Tuck said wistfully. She put her hand up and patted Michael's face.

The telephone shrilled suddenly. Michael lifted Tuck, and dropped her unceremoniously to the couch, and made one leap for the receiver.

"Hello?" he said.

"Yes, yes. Forrester speaking."

"It's not, eh? Positive?"

There was a pause.

"I see."

"Yes, Thanks."

He turned back . . . It's Jethro."

He said, "He says there isn't a trace of poison on that meat. He's tested it for everything. He says he'll swear to that."

Both girls looked up at him.

"Then what killed the dog, Michael?"

He shook his head. "I don't know," he said.

But he did not tell them all that Jethro had said. He emphasized the fact that there was no poison on the meat, no poison of any kind. Not a trace. And then he had said, "But it's some strange and damnable business, Forrester; for after I'd tested it, and made sure there was no poison on it I gave the merest scrap to my cat, and it dropped dead at my feet."

SNOW CRUISER HAS MORE OIL LINE TROUBLE

Erie, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP) — The snow cruiser designed for the Byrd Antarctic expedition attempted to get an early and unannounced start from Erie today to avoid the crowds but plans again went awry.

Motors on the huge vehicle were turned over at 5:30 a. m. and an escort of state police was rushed to the yards of the General Electric company plant, where the cruiser has been taking on new motors.

The vehicle moved slowly towards the gates of the yards and then stalled. Investigation revealed another broken oil line — the same trouble which has plagued the cruiser several times.

Engineers expressed hope the cumbersome machine would get under way late today for Boston. Its goal on a trip from Chicago.

COUNTED OUT

Swoyerville, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—John Grecula was busy Monday campaigning for high constable of this Luzerne county borough, but today he's not a candidate. The Luzerne county court, in a recheck of the primary votes Monday, found he had been credited with ten votes too many. That gave the nomination to his opponent.

MARITIME UNIT DELAYS CHANGE OF REGISTRY

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP).—The maritime commission withheld final approval today of a request to place nine American merchant ships under Panamanian registry so that they could escape the new neutrality law and continue voyages to Europe.

After commission sources had said Monday afternoon that the United States Lines' application for the transfer was granted, the commission held an evening meeting and announced at midnight that it was deferring action.

The ships consist of all but two of those used in trans-Atlantic service by the United States Lines. If the application is approved, they would be transferred to a Panamanian corporation, would fly the Panama flag, and would have no American citizens in their crews.

"The proposed transfer would divorce the ships involved from any and all protection afforded by the United States flag," said a commission statement.

"Any favorable action would be taken by the Maritime commission only upon the definite understanding that operations of the vessels in question can in no way involve the rights of diplomatic protection by the United States or be made the basis of any claim put forward by the government of the United States."

The commission explained that the ships could not carry any Americans either as passengers or crew in the combat areas defined by President Roosevelt. These extend eastward from mid-Atlantic around the British Isles and all western Europe from Bergen, Norway, to northern Spain.

Should the ships ever be returned to United States registry, the commission added, they could not enter coastwise or intercoastal service. The nine vessels are the American Shipper, American Banker, American Trader, American Traveler, American Farmer, American Importer, American Merchant, the President Harding and the President Roosevelt.

The United States Lines' two largest ships—the Manhattan and the Washington—will remain under the American flag, probably in Latin-American service.

Commissioner Max Truitt, discussing the application, expressed the belief that it was a sound situation without "any element of a dodge" from the neutrality act.

"There is nothing in the neutrality law, or in the debates that I remember," said Truitt, "which indicated an American citizen could not charter a boat of a foreign government."

The commission was told by the State department, it was learned, that no question of foreign policy was involved in the transfer.

Capital Agog Over Party at Soviet Embassy

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP).—Not since the British embassy's royal garden fête has a capital party created such a furore as today's 21st anniversary celebration of the Russian revolution at the Soviet embassy.

Last June, officials and their wives who were not invited to greet the British monarchs fumed over the omission. Today, congressmen and diplomats invited to help the Soviet reception worried over whether or not they should attend.

As the party hour drew near, capital social scouts were divided on the function's prospects. Some predicted that few persons of importance would attend. Others insisted that everybody would go to see who stayed away.

The 1,000 invitations for the affair went out on the heels of Soviet Premier Molotov's recent speech criticizing President Roosevelt for "intervening" in Russia's negotiations with Finland.

Immediately some senators and house members let it be known that they had sent regrets for the Soviet party, for which the host is Dmitri S. Chuvakhin, charge d'affaires in the absence of Ambassador Oumansky, now enroute here from Russia.

They explained that they would be out of town, had previous engagements, did not think it was "appropriate," or did not like vodka or caviar. Representative May (D-Ky.) announced that he preferred to do his celebrating on the Fourth of July.

In previous years, Soviet embassy invitations had been prized by many, for the parties were among the most lavish ever held here. At one, a 17-foot sturgeon from the Volga centered a buffet table. Always there were mounds of caviar in ice blocks, and the endless quantities of food, flowers and champagne.

For relieving discomforts of chest colds and night coughs, rub VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. VapoRub's poultice-vapor action relieves congestion of upper air passages—eases soreness of chest and back. Muscles—helps the youngster relax into healing sleep.

For coughing and irritated throat caused by colds, put VapoRub on the child's tongue to relieve the irritation. Then massage VapoRub on throat and chest. Millions of families use these three time-tested treatments.

CATTLE Some unevenness developed in local market for steers yesterday when butchers countered higher asking prices with lower bids and trading averaged around steady. Demand for fat steers was not strong. Some what for side stock and sales ruled fully steady to a shade higher than close last week. Bulls and replacement heifers were in demand at rates that looked better than last week's close. Medium and low good grades of around 1050 to 1300 pound carcasses and choice grades predominated supply of slaughter steers. Available yesterday and bulk of sales were made within a price noted selling up 39 strictly dressed, were lacking and considered eligible to sell well above best prices paid yesterday. Common light offerings sold down to 37 and occasionally below. Medium and good grade heifers brought mainly $5.50 to $6.00, not many all told of this class. Good grade beef cows were scarce and sold well up to $6.00 or above. While sales of common and medium grade fat offerings went at $4.00 and the canners and cutters mostly $4.50 to $5.00. Some drooping under $4.00. Slaughter bulls brought mostly from $3.25 to $4.00. Replacement steers were mainly common and medium grade. Cattle that turned at $7.50 to $8.00 a few noted selling up to $8.75.

CALVES—Moderate run in the local calf pen, encountered sufficient breadth of demand to hold current outlet at steady rate, and the good and choice grade veal averaged at $11.00 to $12.00. While common and medium grade sorts went at $8.00 to $10.00. Light culls sold down to 7 and below. $10.00—Mostly 250 to 300 pound practical top $7.20. Comparable grades of 140 to 160 pound light light brought $5.00 to $5.20. 40 pound run-in weight butchers, and the 120 to 140 pound slaughter pigs at $6.50 to $7.00. 160 pound butchers at $5.00 to $5.50. 200 pound and over 400 pounds at $5.50 to $6.00. Hogs from doubtful areas and those fattened on garbage and swill and price premiums occasionally paid for throat bled and on a segment purchased for re-shipment are not included in above quotations.

SWINE—Mostly 250 to 300 pound carcasses prevailed in the fat lamb market yesterday as compared with close last week. Good and choice cuts and withers, or light, brought $10.00 to $11.00. Fat hogs usually $1 under load and lot prices. Common and medium grade sorts went at $7.50 to $8.00 and light cuts at $6.00 to $6.50. No step of consequence were included in unloads, just odd head of old thin offerings that sold from $1.50 to $2.00.

Russia and Italy Control Lands Germany Wanted

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Writer

The further the European imbroglio unfolds itself the more evident does it become that Nazi leader Hitler's staggering gamble in his conquest of Poland will call for all the uncanny skill he has shown in previous coups if he is to avoid coming a cropper.

Developments in the few weeks since the start of the conflict make it difficult to see how unless he can win a quick war (the much advertised blitzkrieg) he can avoid politico-economic losses in eastern Europe which would turn victory into virtual defeat.

These developments relate principally to the Russian and Italian raids into his preserves.

Mussolini pointed the situation up at the week-end by overhauling and strengthening his army. While not officially explained this undoubtedly is calculated not only to bolster Italy's neutrality but to ensure her place in the Balkans and the Mediterranean zone.

Partner Surprises Hitler
Herr Hitler's trouble started when he drew an Anglo-French war which he hadn't expected and didn't want. Then his new friend Comrade Stalin of Russia having given him a push into the conflict with the allies, proceeded to annex eastern Poland and seize control of the Baltic states and reach for domination of the Balkans.

The Balkans in particular have of course figured for years in Hitler's great dream of expansion to the east—an imperial vision which the ex-kaiser and other German leaders had before him.

There has been nothing Hitler could do about this unforeseen stroke of bad luck owing to his involvement with the Anglo-French brotherhood. He is too smart to invite the Muscovites to moral combat while he has England and France on his hands.

Now to complicate matters along comes Signor Mussolini and gives the Berlin Rome axis such a bend that it looks badly damaged if not broken.

The fascist chieftain's purge of his lieutenants last week in which he got rid of troublesome pro-Nazi elements emphasized his apparent determination to lessen his German entanglements and hoe his own row.

Mussolini's Defense
Even before this development Mussolini had tossed his hat into the Balkan ring and started out to defend from Russian inroads what he regards as Italian prerogatives in this area. He had accepted German domination on the Balkan peninsula over a long period because forsooth there was mighty little he could do about it.

Herr Hitler was riding fast and far and we well mounted. The European war however changed the picture.

I have just had private word from a good Italian source in Rome tending to confirm that Il Duce couldn't take it when his axis partner shook hands with Russia and gave the communists the green light to go ahead in the Balkans. Mussolini decided to stymie the Russians forthwith.

It has been generally understood that the Italian chief is trying to form a 'neutral' bloc among the Balkan states. He is said to have been making progress, too.

Says State Will Share War Orders

Harrisburg Nov. 7 (AP)—Pennsylvania as one of the leading industrial states will share in any shipments to foreign markets resulting from repeal of the arms embargo. Richard P. Brown, secretary of Commerce, asserted today.

Any time we can ship to advantage to foreign countries in addition to our home markets Pennsylvania will share with the rest of the country in increased production, he said.

To date this department does not know of a single war order in Pennsylvania for shipment to foreign countries.

In addition to filling orders directly for products manufactured within the state, the state can benefit from orders placed in other sections, Brown explained.

Coal is a good example, he said. This state may supply the fuel needed to manufacture products sold in other states.

Thousands Will Be Spent in Gettysburg Stores This Christmas —

Many a well planned Christmas season has flopped for lack of sufficient advertising. Christmas is a BIG event for every family and every store. Some stores will do fan, others well and a few excellent. Those stores that really do a job realize that the public is prone to judge the importance of Christmas merchandise by the campaign with which it is advertised. For 'Business Insurance' this Christmas plan an intelligent newspaper advertising campaign now in THE GETTYSBURG TIMES.

THE MARKETS

Market prices at the Gettysburg warehouse, corrected daily are as follows:

Barley	58
Eggs	28
Butter	15

Philadelphia Butcher—Top grades, 30%a34c; 92 score, 30a35c; 91 score, 29a3c; 90 score, 28a3c; 89 score, 27a3c; 88 score, 26a3c. EGGS—Receipts, 797 cases, steady. U. S. Extras, whites, 36a40c; browns, 34a38c; standards, Nos. 1 and 2, 32a35c; Nos. 3 and 4, 27a30c; trades, 23a25c. Medium—extras or better, whites, 28a29c; medium, standards, 22a25c.

CATTLE—Some unevenness developed in local outlet for steers yesterday, when buyers countered higher asking prices with lower bids and trading averaged around steady with Thursday's levels. Demands strengthened somewhat for short-cut and sales fell fully steady to a shade higher than close last week. Bulls and replacement steers cleared at rates that looked in line with last week's close. Medium and low good grades of around 1,000-1,300 pound grass and short-cut predominated supply of slaughter steers available yesterday and bulk of sales were made within a price noted selling up to $2, strictly dryfeds were lacking and considered eligible to sell well above best prices paid yesterday. Common light offerings sold down to $7 and occasionally below. Medium and good grade heifers brought mainly $6.50a8.50, not many all told of that class. Good grade beef cows were also scarce, odd head selling up to $8.50 or above, while sales of common and medium grade fat offerings went at $6a8 and the canners and cutters mostly $4a5, old thin kinds dropping under $4. Slaughter bulls brought mostly from $6.25a7, better price practical top, although odd head or so brought above $7. Replacement steers were mainly common and medium feeders that turned at $7a8.50, a few noted selling up to $8.75.

CALVES—Moderate run in the local calf pens encountered sufficient breadth of demand to hold current outlet at steady rates and the good and choice grade vealers cleared at $11a13, while common and medium-grade sorts went at $8.50a10.50 and light culls sold down to $7 and below. HOGS—Generally steady to 5c. lower hog prices prevailed than Saturday and outlet yesterday was 10a15c. Under Friday's levels, good and choice grade 170-210 pound barrows and gilts brought $6.50a7.20; practical top, $7.20. Comparable grades of 140-160-pound light lights brought $6.30a7.15; 220-240-pound medium weight butchers and the 120-140-pound slaughter pigs at $6.75a7; 250-300-pound butchers at $6.30a6.80; packing sows and 400 pounds at $5.50a6.30 and weightier sows from $5.40a6.55. Hogs from doubtful sows and those fattened on garbage or swill and price premiums occasionally paid for through-billed rail consignments purchased for shipment are not represented in above quotations.

SHEEP—Mostly 25a35c. Higher rates prevailed in the fat lamb market yesterday, as compared with close last week. Good and choice ewe and wether sorts brought $10a10.35; fat buck lambs usually $1 under load and price. Common and medium-grade sorts went at $7a8.50 and light culls sold as low as $4.50. No sheep of consequence were included in unloads, just odd head of old thin offerings that sold from $1.50a2.

APPLES—Mkt. Bull. Truck rec. mod. Truck, Md., Pa., Va., W. Va., bu. bas., U. S. 1a, 2 1/2-in. min. Delicious, $1.15a1.25; few higher; full ripe, 60a65c; Smokehouse, 65a75c; few higher; Grimes, Jonathans and McIntosh, 60a75c; Maiden Blush and Winter Bananas, 40a45c; Hubbards and Yorks, 60a75c; Staymans, good color, 75a90c; few higher; poor color, 60a65c. Various fall varieties, U. S. 1a, 2 1/2-in. min.

Russia and Italy Control Lands Germany Wanted

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press Foreign Writer
The further the European imbroglio unfolds itself the more evident does it become that nazi leader Hitler's staggering gamble in his conquest of Poland will call for all the uncanny skill he has shown in previous coups if he is to avoid coming a cropper.

Developments in the few weeks since the start of the conflict make it difficult to see how, unless he can win a quick war (the much advertised blitzkrieg), he can avoid politico-economic losses in eastern Europe which would turn victory into virtual defeat.

These developments relate principally to the Russian and Italian raids into his preserves. Mussolini pointed the situation up at the week-end by overhauling and strengthening his army. While not officially explained, this undoubtedly is calculated not only to bolster Italy's neutrality but to ensure her place in the Balkans and the Mediterranean zone.

Partner Surprises Hitler
Herr Hitler's trouble started when he drew an Anglo-French war which he hadn't expected and didn't want. Then his new friend, Comrade Stalin of Russia, having given him a push into the conflict with the allies, proceeded to annex eastern Poland, seize control of the Baltic states, and reach for domination of the Balkans.

The Balkans in particular have, of course, figured for years in Hitler's great dream of expansion to the east—an imperial vision which the ex-kaiser and other German leaders had before him.

There has been nothing Hitler could do about this unforeseen stroke of bad luck, owing to his involvement with the Anglo-French brotherhood. He is too smart to invite the Muscovites to moral combat while he has England and France on his hands.

Now to complicate matters along comes Signor Mussolini and gives the Berlin-Rome axis such a bend that it looks badly damaged, if not broken.

Thousands Will Be Spent in Gettysburg Stores This Christmas —

Many a well planned Christmas season has flopped for lack of sufficient advertising. Christmas is a BIG event for every family and every store. Some stores will do fair, others well and a few excellent. Those stores that really do a job realize that the public is prone to judge the importance of Christmas merchandise by the courage with which it is advertised. For "Business Insurance" this Christmas plan an intelligent newspaper advertising campaign now in THE GETTYSBURG TIMES.

Rulers of Belgium and Netherlands Confer on How to Keep Out of War

The Hague, Nov. 7 (AP)—Leopold, king of the Belgians and Queen Wilhelmina, of the Netherlands engaged today in apparently urgent talks aimed, observers believed, at keeping their countries out of war and protecting their vital interests.

There were suggestions that the two lowland states, lying between Europe's great warring powers, were seeking to reconcile divergent foreign policies and present a joint neutrality front.

King Leopold arrived late Monday evening after a hurried motor trip from Brussels and proceeded at once to the Noordeinde palace, where he conferred with Queen Wilhelmina until 1:30 a. m.

It was learned that the Belgian sovereign originally had planned to return to Brussels early today but postponed his departure pending further talks.

King Leopold followed up Monday night's conference with another hour and one-half meeting with Queen Wilhelmina today.

There was no official announcement on the nature of the talk, but informed quarters said King Leopold was concerned over the possibility of a German attack against France through Belgium.

Participating in the conference were Queen Wilhelmina's foreign minister, Eelco Van Kleffens, and Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak, who came here with King Leopold.

Efforts were made to keep the visit secret, but the posting of a heavy military guard outside the palace caused the news to leak out. An official announcement issued after midnight noted Leopold's arrival but did not comment on the reason for the visit.

Informed sources said only that

Flashes of Life

By The Associated Press

THRILLER

Evansville, Ind.—Marian Suhring, 8, was crossing a railroad track on her way to school. An automobile knocked her into the path of a train. She stumbled from in front of the locomotive and fell unconscious. In a hospital, physicians found she had only a slight head injury and a leg bruise.

DULL, THEN SHARP

Muncie, Ind.—Judge Claude C. Ball granted Willis Dull a divorce from Eugene Dull. Then he called the next case. It was the divorce suit of Arthur Sharp against Cecile Mae Sharp. The judge granted the Sharp divorce, too.

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME

Ablene, Tex.—Ed Slaughter, president of a civic club, went gathering used clothes for Ablene's needy. When he returned to his office he found his new winter suit had been stolen from a dressing room.

DEAD GIVEAWAY

Chicago—Among the businesses for sale in the classified columns of a Chicago newspaper was this one: "Health institute; est. 25 years; sell act. sickness. Address . . ."

HISTORY REPEATS

Omaha, Neb.—William H. Schmolter was in Holland when the World War broke out and he booked passage on the steamship Rotterdam. It didn't sail and he finally got home on another ship. Twenty-five years later Schmolter again was in Holland when a new war began and he faced another transportation problem. This time he came home—on the Rotterdam.

BEST OF EVERYTHING

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—Suburban Fox Chapel is out to repeat its record of last November—every registered voter casting a ballot. J. P. Campbell, public relations committee chairman, urged in his plea for a 100 per cent turnout that voters pick the best candidates regardless of party affiliations, adding: "There have been so many bad republicans in the past and bad democrats of the present that every American should vote for the best man running for every office."

LUTHERAN WORLD PARLEY IS CANCELED BY WAR

The Lutheran World convention which was to have been held in Philadelphia next May has been canceled because of the war in Europe.

This was announced Monday in New York by Rev. Ralph Long, a member of the convention planning commission. The convention was to have been attended by representatives of Lutheran synods in the United States and Europe.

Such action was forecast three weeks ago when plans for the convention were temporarily abandoned.

1939 TURKEY CROP

The 1939 turkey crop is almost 32,000,000 birds, the largest of record. This is 22 per cent larger than the 1938 crop of over 26 million birds, according to the agricultural marketing service at Washington. Cold storage holdings on September 1 were almost double those of the same date last year—10,808,000 pounds, compared with 5,711,000 pounds on September 1, 1938.

the grounds will be locked out if they fail to return by 9 p. m." But that wasn't at all ridiculous, Best said, for it was issued 75 years ago and: "There were a lot of wild and tough Indians around to take care of any who didn't come back to their cells at night."

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Santa Claus has more than $1,000,000 in his sack for Christmas savings depositors in Northampton county banks. The banks in Bethlehem alone will mail checks totalling $445,600 to savings club members.

EX-SENATOR DIES

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 7 (AP)—William E. Chilton, Sr., 81, former United States senator, publisher of the Charleston Gazette, and for many years a democratic leader in West Virginia, died today. He was elected to the senate by the West Virginia legislature in 1910 and served until 1917.

Possibility of a mutual assistance pact between the nations also was generally discounted.

Interest centered largely on old age pension proposals in California and Ohio. The California plan would give up to $30 every Thursday to unemployed persons over 50, under a law similar to one rejected there last year. Payments would be made in state script redeemable after a year, provided a two-cent stamp tax was attached every week.

The Ohio plan, advocated by Herbert S. Bigelow, Cincinnati clergyman, calls for pensions, supplementing other income, to provide total payments of $50 a month to retired single persons over 60 and $80 monthly to couples. A state income tax and a levy on high-priced real estate would finance it.

Virgorous Campaigns

Virgorous campaigns were conducted in both states. Opponents contended that the plans were unworkable and would be a burden on the very people they are designed to help. Proponents responded with intensive radio and mass-meeting campaigns seeking to get out a large vote.

A referendum on sanctioning pari-mutuel betting at race tracks was the only statewide question before New York voters. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt were at their Hyde Park, New York, home to vote in an effort to dislodge some of the local republican office holders.

Prohibition was an issue in Indiana, where towns of less than 3,000 population were electing town officials. Dry forces concentrated on candidates pledged to oppose issuance of local liquor licenses.

One of the few contests bearing even remotely on President Roosevelt's policies was in Kentucky, where Gov. Keen Johnson, democrat, who succeeded Gov. A. B. Chandler when the latter resigned to be appointed to the senate, sought election to the office he now holds. His republican opponent, Circuit Judge King Swope, criticized the national administration in his campaign.

The only other gubernatorial election was in Mississippi, where Paul B. Johnson, democrat, was unopposed.

National affairs were mentioned also in Philadelphia's mayoral race. Robert C. White, democrat, was opposed by Robert E. Lamberton, republican, who argued that a democratic victory would diminish the national prestige of the republican party.
